FINAL OF MADRIZ AND REVOLUTION

State Department Gets Official Information From Nicaragua.

DISORDER MARKED DOWNFALL

General Juan Estrada Ruler Over the Republic—Issued a Proclamation to the People—The Closing Scenes.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The final word telling of the passing into history of the Madriz government at Managut was received at the State Department today in an official dispatch from American Consul Olivares, stationed at Managua.

The message was dated 11 P. M. Saturday. It told of the disorder that preceded the downfall of Madriz at Managua, the escape of the defeated President from the city as shots were fired at his train and the assumption of the Presidency and the command of the local troops by brothers of the revolutionary leader, General Juan Estrada.

A message from General Juan Estrada promised for Nicaragua to make reparation for the shooting of Cannon and Groce, the Americans executed by Zelaya as military prisoners. Officials of the penitentiary at Managua, where 700 prisoners were confined, called at the American consulate on Friday night and voluntarily made affidavits to the effect that the commandant of the prison had hatched a plot to blow up the institution and its inmates in the event of the downfall of the Madriz faction. It was in this penitentiary that William Pittman, the American engineer, was confined. Prisoners from other foreign nations were among those behind the bars.

The American and foreign consuls at Managua promptly laid the matter before Dr. Madriz, who undertook to look into the charges. The President said he would guarantee that the plot would be nipped. Not satisfied with the guarantee, Consul Olivares asked for and obtained the removal of Pittman to the consulate, where he was being sheltered at the time the dispatch was sent. On Saturday morning Madriz dismissed the commandant of the prison.

Before Madriz had abandoned his office that afternoon, the prison left without guard, had emptied its inmates into the streets. About 600 of the 700 prisoners had been arrested for political reasons.

Many of them obtained rifles and roamed the streets, in some cases, firing upon troops of the Madriz faction.

As soon as Madriz left General Aurelie Estrada, a brother of the revolutionary leader, General Juan Estrada, took command of the local troops to police the city. His forces consisted of a mixture of troops of the Liberal party and volunteers of the Conservative party, whose rivalry, the consul said, caused some embarrassment after Madriz left the city for Corinte on a train in a fusillade of shots, crowds gathered around the American consulate and during Saturday night cheered for the government and the people of the United States.

Consul Olivares cabled to the State Department this proclamation which Jose D. Estrada issued upon succeeding Madriz:

"To the Nicaraguans, Fellow Countrymen:—Called to the exercise of the Presidency in accordance with the provisions of our constitution, I have taken charge of the provisional command of the Republic in times of difficulty and sorrow for the mother country. In so doing I have had nothing in mind but to assist, as far as it lay in my power in restoring peace so as to bring at once to an end the shedding of blood and thus open an era of reconciliation which may stop the misfortunes that are now rending the National honor.

"My object then is exclusively to guarantee order to society while I turn over the command to the revolution to which end I have already taken appropriate steps. I therefore hope, in my disinterested and loyal efforts, that I may rely on the co-operation of the good sons of Nicaragua and I entreat them to lend me their support, as the only sure means of satisfactorily discharging the sacred duties which, to my mind, patriotism imposes upon me.

(Signed) "JOSE D. ESTRADA.

"Managua, August 10, 1910."

Estrada followers in the city say that a complete understanding exists between General Juan Estrada, and his two leading generals, General Chamorro and Mena, in regard to the political phase of the situation. They state that Chamorro and Mena have agreed not to interfere with the plans of Estrada in this particular. Should such be the case, it would save many embarrassments, it is believed here, as Estrada is a Liberal and his associates Conservatives.

Talk was heard tonight among the Estrada followers in Washington of the possibility of the selection of a junta to govern the country temporarily. Such a plan, it was pointed out, would give the country an opportunity to settle down after its civil war before the excitement of an election was forced upon it.

Senor Castrillo, the Estrada representative here, has notified Nicaraguan consuls in this country who were appointed under the Madriz re-

SMITH IS LIKELY GEORGIA'S CHOICE

Former Governor Will Win In Race For Nomination Over Gov. Brown.

PRIMARY ELECTION IS HELD

Interest in Contest Between Livingston and Howard—Seven Contested Districts in the State—The Early Returns.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—Early returns from the Democratic primaries today indicate a hard race between Gov. Jos. M. Brown and former Gov. Hoke Smith for the gubernatorial nomination with Smith in the lead and gaining steadily, as the toll by counties increased. Of the first 34 counties reporting, Smith had apparently safe leads in 20. He carried Fulton county, including the city of Atlanta by 530 majority.

Cobb county, the home of Governor Brown, early swung into the Smith column. Savannah reported the final count in Burke county for Brown by the extremely narrow margin of four votes, and McIntosh county for Smith by 21. Smith's campaign headquarters here confidently predicted his victory, and the Brown leaders were not less optimistic, but the majority of the political leaders gathered here pointed to the nature of the early returns as significant of a probable Smith victory.

There were contests today in seven Congressional districts. In the fifth district which includes Atlanta, Leonidas F. Livingston, incumbent, was sorely pressed by William Schley Howard, who swept the country districts and came to Atlanta with almost certain victory unless Livingston's city vote was very heavy. The The city count was late. In the Tenth district where Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick expected a hard fight there was practically no returns up to a late hour. Congressman Charles L. Bartlett in the sixth district, was reported in danger of defeat early in the evening, but later returns indicated that he was running well ahead of his opponents. Congressman Thomas M. Bell, Ninth district, was renominated but the official figures were not available tonight. In the First district Congressman Charles D Edwards appeared to be running easily in the lead. Congressman Roddenderry, Second district; Hughes, Third district, Adamson, Fourth district and Brantley, Eleventh district, were renominated without opposition.

Late returns from the Eighth Congressional district indicated Congressman William M. Howard running slightly behind S. J. Tribble, his only opponent. The official count may be necessary to pick the winner.

Tribble's campaign was based on Howard's alleged alignment in favor of the Cannon rules when the House was organized last December 1st. In the Seventh district Congressman Lee was reported to be winning.

Atlanta, Aug. 23.—Out of 61 counties reported officially Smith carried 40 with a convention vote of 106 and Brown carried 21 with a convention vote of 62. There are 146 counties and nomination will go to the candidate securing the majority vote in the coming State convention, the vote being under the county unit rule, and each county voting according to today's election returns.

Of the above 61 counties Smith has carried 20 that two years ago went for Brown and Brown has carried four of the Smith counties of two years ago.

Smith is Confident.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 23.—Shortly after midnight the gubernatorial situation was unchanged, Smith leading with 45 counties to 23 for Brown. In the two hours preceding midnight, but seven counties were heard from and the Smith managers appeared worried by the slowness of the returns. Usually the Georgia returns are in well before midnight. Hoke Smith gave out a statement that he would have 40 votes more than necessary in the convention.

Smith Next Governor.

Hoke Smith had 82 counties and 204 votes in the State convention, enough to elect him the next Governor of Georgia, according to returns up to 1 o'clock this morning from Georgia's Democratic primaries. Brown had 30 counties at this hour. His managers said that the result was in doubt.

Congressman Leonidas Livingston, who has served ten continuous terms and is ranking minority member of the Appropriations Committee, was doubtful of his return to the House. On the issue that he supported the so-called Cannon rules at the organization of Congress last Winter, Livingston was given a hard run by William Schley Howard.

On the same issue Congressman William M. Howard in the eight district was given a fierce tussle by S. J. Tribble and late returns put Tribble in the lead by a scant margin.

Brown's Supporters.

The following statement was given out at the Brown headquarters: "At midnight the result is in doubt. The race is going to prove very close between Mr. Brown and Mr. Smith. Under our count Mr. Brown is leading by six votes in the convention."

The Brown headquarters will make no further statement tonight.

TEDDY HAS BEGUN HIS TOUR LIVELY

Aims Blow at Vice-President Sherman in First Speech at Utica.

HE DISCUSSED CONSERVATION

Pleased the Cheering Throngs With His Forceful Speech—Roosevelt Supports Man Sherman is Opposing.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt wound up the first day of his pilgrimage into the West by placing himself directly in opposition to Vice President's own county he warmly endorsed State Senator Frederick Davenport, who is a staunch progressive whom Mr. Sherman has said that he would not support. Mr. Sherman was out of town today and did not see Colonel Roosevelt.

It was late in the afternoon when Colonel Roosevelt reached Summit Park, ten miles west of here, a Summer resort overlooking the Mohawk River. Ten thousand persons who attended the Grange picnic there today were waiting for him and raised a cheer as the ex-President appeared on the platform. At every stopping place along the way from New York to Utica the colonel was cheered, but the roar of applause which went up from the throng at the park shook the pavilion.

Colonel Roosevelt spied Senator Davenport at once and greeted him warmly. As soon as he began his speech he turned to the senator and said:

"I am glad to see you on the platform Senator Davenport. The only kind of politics I care for is the kind of politics in which decency is combined with efficiency. I hold that the only way in which a plilitician can really serve his party is by helping that party efficiently to serve the people. Because the senator and the men who have acted with him have stood for this principle I am glad to be on the platform with him."

There was more cheering as the colonel uttered these words. When he could be heard again he added:

"You will at least notice that my utterances are free from ambiguity."

Then the Colonel proceeded with his talk to the farmers. As soon as it was over he hurried to the Henderson House at Jordanville, Herkimer county, the home of his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, of New York. He will remain there until tomorrow night when he will start for Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Senator Davenport made a speech after Colonel Roosevelt had concluded. He said the colonel had been his ideal and that he considered him to represent the heart and conscience of the great body of the people.

After a talk with Mr. Sherman on August 5th, Senator Davenport at that time said:

"Vice President Sherman has made it clear that he was not for me and he has said that I should not be renominated."

The Vice President replied promptly on that occasion by saying:

"The Senator knows that I did not say to him that he should not be renominated. I did say that I should not support his candidacy and I do not intend to do so."

Senator Davenport supported the direct nomination bill in the legislature and he has been a warm supporter of Governor Hughes policies. Colonel Roosevelt's move in endorsing him is regarded as his first step in the New York State fight.

In his prepared speech Colonel Roosevelt dealt with the problems of life in the country and how to solve them.

The colonel kept his hearers in good spirits with his epigrams, some of which were not down in his speech. "I

Strenuous Days Before The Roosevelt Campaign

Photos by American Press Association.

New York, Aug. 23.—The last few days of Col. Roosevelt's retirement before departing for a speech making tour of the country yesterday, were strenuous ones even for the former President. One day last week he addressed a meeting of the National Negro Business Men's League, which was attended by Booker T. Washington as the other guest of honor; next he gave a dinner to the Oyster Bay newspaper correspondents, followed by laying a cornerstone for a new publishing house at Garden City, and finally Col. Roosevelt received in almost endless procession Congressmen, Federal officials and politicians. Besides this, he was occupied with his editorial duties on the Outlook for several hours.

TAFT'S KEYNOTE NOW KNOWN

President Will Favor Further Revision of the Tariff In Coming Campaign—Outlines His Position on Subject.

Beverley, Mass., Aug. 23.—President Taft's keynote for the coming campaign became known here tonight. The President will favor further revision of the tariff.

While he is still convinced that the Payne-Aldrich law is the best tariff law the country has had up to this time, he has at last reached the conclusion that there is decided room for improvement.

Mr. Taft does not propose that business shall be upset by another wholesale revision, but he will recommend to Congress that individual schedules in the tariff system be taken up separately and be disposed of on a scientific basis. The new revision is to be based upon the findings of the tariff commission as to the cost of production at home and abroad. Only a fair profit is to be allowed the American producer. "Extortionate and unreasonable" profits, the President declares, are to be tolerated no longer.

The President has stated these facts and has outlined his position in detail in the letter he has sent to Representative McKinley, of Illinois, for publication in the Republican Congressional textbook. The letter was mailed from Beverly yesterday. The time of making it public has been left entirely to the judgment of the committee.

Political observers regard this move as about the shrewdest that has been made during the present administration. It offers an excellent opportunity for the insurgents and regulars to get together in the campaign and President Taft has been exceedingly anxious to find a ground upon which the defendant factions could meet without embarrassment to either.

With the creation of the tariff board under the Payne-Aldrich end and the enlargement of this power by provision of the last Congress, the President believes the way has been opened to put the tariff on a scientific basis for the first time in the history of the country.

Mr. Taft proposes to obviate opening the whole tariff act, to recommend to Congress that before any schedule is taken up for further consideration, a rule shall be passed both in the House and the Senate providing that amendments to a certain schedule of the present tariff shall bein order, and that any amendments not germane to that particular schedule shall be declared out of order.

The President already has had two conferences with Chairman H. C. Emery of the tariff commission this Summer. The first of these was on board the yacht Mayflower at Bar Harbor late in July and the second was at Burgess Point two weeks ago. The President proposed to have the entire tariff board meet him in Beverly some time in September.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 23.—General Thomas M. Mumford, of Lynchburg, has been appointed chairman of the history committee of the grand camp of Confederate Veterans of Virginia, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Daniel.

CRASH WITH AUTO WAS FATAL

Three Persons Killed and Nine Seriously Injured in Collision—Construction Train and Auto Wrecked.

New York, Aug. 23.—Three persons were killed and nine were severely hurt late today when an automobile crashed into the side of a construction train on the Long Island Railroad at the Merrick Road crossing at Springfield, Queensborough. Four others were less seriously injured. Both the automobile and the construction train were wrecked.

The dead are: J. Berbon, 50 years old, New York City, chauffeur of the wrecked car; Bertha Weiss, 11 years old, New York City, niece of the owner of the car; Rebecca Glass, nine years old, New York City.

Of the seriously injured, Mrs. Bella Hirsch, 40 years old, of Far Rockaway, has concussion of the brain and a fractured leg. She hardly can survive. Charles Snyder, conductor of the train, had his right leg broken. Mrs. Frances Glass, the victim's mother, received a fractured thigh and other lesser injuries. Her condition is critical. John Fido, a laborer on the construction train, had his breast bone crushed and will probably die.

The automobile, which belonged to Adolph Hirsch, of Far Rockaway, encountered closed gates at the crossing which had been lowered by the gateman because of a passing freight train. On the other side of the freight was the construction train unseen by the gateman or the automobile party. When the gates were raised, the freight slipped by as the automobile shot forward and jammed itself under a flat car of the construction train. The automobile was dragged for more than 200 feet, finally rolling down the embankment with one of the flat cars.

BEEF INQUIRY RESUMED.

Marketing of Meats Investigated—Shifted to Boston.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 23.—The beef inquiry begun some time ago at Chicago was shifted to Boston today when the Federal grand jury met in special session. Before the jurors have finished their work they will have sifted thoroughly the manner and method of handling beef in all parts of New England.

The investigation is to inquiry of the marketing of the fresh meat which goes to the retailers and from them to the consumers, and a study of the processes afterward with particular attention to the rendering of tallow.

Fort Worth, Texas, Aug. 23.—Engineer Joseph Wallact was killed and two other trainmen were probably fatally injured late yesterday when a fast freight and a work train on the Texas and Pacific Railroad collided near Aledo, Texas. Wallace and his fireman, Nathan Davis, were caught beneath the overturned locomotive and scalded. Brakeman Tulley, the other man hurt was thrown from the top of a freight car and sustained internal injuries.

LIGHT RAINS FALL IN FIRE REGIONS

Loss of Life in Montana, Idaho and Washington Is Appalling.

TWO HUNDRED MEN CUT OFF

Property Loss May Reach Ten Million Mark—Rangers and Regulars Are at Work Fighting Flames—Scenes.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—Light rain began to fall this afternoon in Wallace and other Cour d'Alene mining towns that have been scorched or threatened by forest fires, and the weary fire fighters took new hope.

Nothing but a long and heavy downpour will quench the flames that are eating up the big trees, but a shower may help stay the flames.

Idaho militia and United States troops are on the way to fight the fires, but the soldiers can accomplish little more than to protect the threatened towns.

The most startling rumors of loss of life pour in, but it is impossible to verify them. It seems probable that, aside from losses among the National rangers, the number of dead in the three States will not exceed 100 when the smoke shall have cleared away. A list of known dead to date compiled contains only 34 names.

The place in which the two hundred men were working when last heard from is now a seething area of flames. The distance from here is so short that it is thought Ranger Kootkey, one of the party of 200, would have sent word to his chief if he were alive. He is a graduate of the Yale Forestry School.

Steve R. Marquette, of Independence, Iowa, who was a member of Ranger Bell's party of 37 men that was hemmed in by the flames at Beauchamp's ranch on the Big Fork of Cour d'Alene river, ten miles from Wallace, arrived in Wallace today and reported that the entire party are dead and eight are in a hospital camp, four being blind and four suffering of broken legs.

Wardner and Burke, Idaho mining towns, which were menaced by the fires, causing suspension of business while the men went out to fight the flames, are out of danger tonight. Neither town suffered injury.

It is difficult to give figures on the timber losses, which may reach $10,000,000. It is estimated that more than 1,500 settlers, in Montana, Idaho, and Washington have lost their homes, barns and all of the farm and house furnishings.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—A special from Wallace says that Forest Supervisor Weigle has received word that 200 men, under Chief Ranger Kootkey, perished in camp near Falcon at the headwaters of the St. Joe river.

The other loss of life is estimated at 100. The mining town of Wardner is almost surrounded by flames and miners are out fighting the fire.

The fires in the Cour d'Alene Indian Reservation are checked, as are those of Palmous National Forest.

Along the St. Joe river which runs through what is described as "the largest body of standing white pine timber in the United States" there is a continuous fire from Plummer to a point in Montana. The United States is the largest loser. Next in importance are the losses sustained by the Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad which has suffered destruction of bridges, buildings and timber lands for forty miles.

The fires along the Northern Pacific in Western Montana have diminished.

The Pen d'Oreille Valley, heavily timbered, is on fire in several places and loss of life is feared. It is difficult to get news from that region.

Dispatches state that four soldiers of G, 25th Infantry (colored) are missing, and also that a number of families near Avery have been burned out and many persons are dead or missing.

Railroad employes at Avery say that all the Bitter Root Mountains are burning and that the entire Coeur D'Alene National Forest may be destroyed.

Four families of homesteaders reported burned to death on LaTour Creek, Kootenae county, Idaho, escaped to St. Joe wading fifteen miles along the bed of the creek with fire burning down to the water's edge forcing the refugees frequently to submerge themselves when the flames reached their faces. An old man in the party was borne on a stretcher all the way. Their clothes were nearly burned off.

While 900 forest rangers are missing in Idaho and Montana, it is probable that most of them will escape death.

The telephone lines through the National Forest have been destroyed or interrupted, and the rangers might be safe, but unable to report.

Forest Supervisor Fenn today forwarded to the forestry bureau at Missoula a report from Kooskai, Idaho. He asserts that the fires have now covered an area of more than 50 square miles; that high winds prevail and there appears to be little chance

JUNIORS RECEIVE ROYAL WELCOME

20th. Annual Session of State Council Jr. O. U. A. M. Meets at Beach.

SENATOR OVERMAN SPEAKER

Visitors Cordially Welcomed in Behalf of City, Beach and Local Councils—500 Juniors in Attendance—Business Sessions.

The delegates and visitors here for the 20th annual meeting of the North Carolina State Council, Junior Order United American Mechanics, which convenes this morning at Tarrymoore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, were last night extended a cordial and sincere welcome to the city and beach at a public meeting held at Lumina, presided over by Mr. Wm. E. Springer, chairman of the joint committee on arrangements. The Juniors had as their guests Hon. Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, junior Senator from North Carolina, whose speech on immigration was pronounced a great effort by all of the 700 or 800 people who heard him. While all the addresses were of an exceptionally high order, the feature of the meeting last night was the address of the distinguished visitor.

The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock by Chairman Springer. Practically every seat in the pavilion was taken and a large number utilized the standing room on the promenade and verandas. After a selection by the Lumina Orchestra, prayer was offered by Rev. K. D. Holmes, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, and an enthusiastic member of the order.

Capt. Thos. D. Meares, clerk of the Board of Audit and Finance, was introduced by Chairman Springer, whom, he stated, would extend the official welcomes of the City of Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach. Capt. Meares is an able and pleasing speaker and is always heard with interest and pleasure. In course of his remarks last night he paid a high but deserved tribute to Senator Overman. "We congratulate the order," he said, "and felicitate ourselves upon the presence of the distinguished visitor." Capt. Meares referred also to the work of the Senator in Washington. He spoke in part as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:—I deem myself happy that the proverbial ill wind which always blows some good to somebody, though it deprives us tonight of the presence of Wilmington's honored executive, has wafted to me the opportunity of looking upon the splendid manhood of this assemblage and of tendering to you, your families, and your friends, a welcome to the twin cities by the sea, the alliterative towns of Wilmington and Wrightsville. A welcome, official perhaps in its utterance, but none the less felt in the hearts of every citizen, I give you. A welcome, official because the people are speaking through their accredited servants, the officers of the municipalities, individual because every resident of these towns appreciates the great work being done by your magnificent organization and bids you God speed in your endeavors, and personal because you are of our own, citizens of our proud old Commonwealth, and bound with us for weal or woe in all her fortunes.

"You are indeed, well come. Well come, because you are on historical ground, with an unblemished record extending back to the earliest settlements of our common country, and of which you and we are alike proud—well come, because you are engaged in the magnificent work of uplifting the mental and moral conditions of our people, and it is well for us to know the men who are doing this good thing, who are teaching the coming generaltion that knowledge is power and that power to accomplish true and beneficial results must be built on a foundation of high moral character. Well come, because we wish you, as you enjoy the salt sea breezes and look upon the mighty waters surging against the beach, where many thousand find comfort and health in each recurring year, to remember that, upon the broad bosom of this great ocean, driven by these same cooling winds, there are floating innumerable carriers, bearing to and fro, from our port, which is your port, the products of every land. It is your town, take it. Ask for what you want, and if you do not get it, it is because a majority of 40,000 of our fellow citizens have decided it wasn't good for you.

"Again, I bid you, a most hearty welcome."

A quartette, composed of Messrs. Greene Fenley, Joe Fenley, H. R. Bates, and W. B. Muse, rendered with pleasing effect "Mustred Out," (Parks). So great was the applause that the quartette was forced to respond to an encore which was as well received as the first number.

L. T. Hartsell, Esq., of Concord, one of the best known members of the order in the State, was then introduced and responded to the address of welcome of Capt. Meares. In beginning he said that he desired to thank the city of Wilmington and Wrightsville

Everybody realizes by this time that whether Wilmington has a look-in for the pennant will be determined largely by this week's games with Rocky Mount and, therefore, the matinees at Struthers' each afternoon are being largely attended and the playing is being closely watched.

Yesterday afternoon it was the sad story of a defeat one to nothing, that clicked over the wires, but the game was a close and exciting one and the fans took their medicine philosophically. The run came in the third after Kluttz had aviated to first, Cooper had ethered and Tydeman had skied to third. Peartree, first man up for Rocky Mount, smashed out a double to centre and was sacrificed along by Gastmeyer, scoring when Stein bingled to left. Creagan flew to third and Boyle fouled to catcher. In this inning Gillespie got gay with the umpire and was put out of the game, Peartree taking third and Boyle going to leftfield.

In the opening session Peartree and Gastmeyer, the first Railroaders to face Fletcher, beat the ozone and Stein and Creagan, the next two, walked, but Gillespie flew to left. For Wilmington in the first session a nearscore developed after Kluttz flew to third and Cooper drew four wide ones. Tydeman got life on error of pitcher and after Orth flew to third, Doak singled, but neither of the runners could get by and Kite was out short to first.

In the second Mills flew to third and Dubbs and Fletcher were out from the pitcher. Forgue started Rocky Mount with a bingle to centre and was sacrificed by Sharry but was forced by Dussault at third, Tracy skying to right. The story of the third spasm has been told. Orth started the fourth with a bingle to left, but was out trying second while Doak was fanning. Kite hit safe to centre but Mills was out from the infield. Forgue walked for Rocky Mount and went to second on a passed ball, being helped along to third on a safe bunt by Sharry, but Dussault was out, third to first, Tracy pitcher to first, while the mighty Peartree fanned.

In the fifth Dubbs was out pitcher to first, Fletcher flew to right. Kite was out from pitcher. Gastmeyer started Rocky Mount with a single, but Stein flew to Kite while Gastmeyer was caught off first for a double, Creagan being out second to first.

The sixth was a whiff for Cooper, life to Tydeman on wild throw of third, Orth out second to first, Doak third to first. For Rocky Mount Boyle was out third to first, Forgue bunted safely, but Sharry and Dussault fanned. Kite started the seventh with a bingle to centre and was sacrificed by Mills but Dubbs flew to short and Fletcher was out second to first. Rocky Mount: Tracy and Gastmeyer fanned, Peartree flew to third.

In the eighth Hoffman went in for Kluttz and was out pitcher to first, Cooper was safe on wild throw, short to first; Tydeman flew to short and Orth was out second to first. Rocky Mount: Stein fanned, Creagan singled to left and stole second while Boyle fanned but Creagan was forced at third by Forgue. Doak, Kite and Mills were out from the infield in the ninth.

WILSON WINS FROM GIANTS

Score Six to Three in Favor of Red Stewart the Opposing Mounders in the Tobacco City Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 23.—Merchant had the goods for Goldsboro this afternoon but could not deliver them in Wilson. Stewart was the big boy as the following shows: In Wilson's first, Jacobs reached first on error; went to second on Benbow's infield hit; advanced to third on Westlake's out, scoring on Miller's long fly to right.

In Wilson's fourth Miller singled, stole, and on Armstrong's two-bagger Miller scored. In the sixth the Giants pounded Stewart for four hits. Gates singled. Handiboe sacrificed; Sharpe hit for two bases and on McDonald's infield hit Gates scored; Brown singled to center and Sharpe scored. In Wilson's sixth another score was added when on Miller's single and steal and on Armstrong's single Miller crossed the plate. In Goldsboro's eighth Brown and Morgan scored, which looked like a lose out for Wilson, but when Wilson went to the bat in the eighth, Benbow walked, Westlake was safe on error of Brown who threw wild to third, scoring Benbow; Miller sacrificed and Westlake scored on Brown's wild throw to plate.

LIGHTNING KILLS THREE.

Were Standing in Church Door Sheltering From Storm.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 23.—During an electrical storm in the Spring Spring Creek section, in Madison county, 15 miles from Hot Springs, today three men standing in the door of a church were killed instantly, and several others were severely shocked. Those killed were Jay Baldwin, Joe Cogdil, and Homer Yates, while Houston Ramey is not expected to live. About 25 people remained in the church after the services, sheltering from an approaching storm. When the bolt struck the steeple, consternation reigned supreme, a panic ensuing recovery from the shock.

THE REDEMPTION FUND.

Required of National Banks by the Treasury Department.

Washington, Aug. 23.—National banks will be required to maintain only a 5 per cent. redemption fund against emergency issues of currency which may be made under the Aldrich-Vreeland Act, according to a ruling which the Treasury Department is about to promulgate. This ruling will reverse a former one made on June 30, 1908, which fixed the amount at 10 per cent.

The so-called Aldrich-Vreeland Act contains a provision requiring National Banking Association to keep on deposit against emergency circulation, in addition to the redemption fund required by the Act of 1874, "an additional sum equal to 5 per cent. of such additional circulation at any time outstanding."

In a statement issued by the Treasury Department today, it is said: "No action has been taken under the Act, and a recent examination of its provisions has led to a revision of the original interpretation. It is now ruled that in case of an issue of additional notes only a 5 per cent. redemption fund will be required."

This ruling is interesting also as demonstrating the confidence of the Treasury Department in the quality of the emergency currency.

IN 1867

Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—So far as the returns from the recent primaries have been computed, A. G. Spaulding, of this city, formerly of Chicago, is far in the lead for the advisory vote for United States Senator to succeed Senator Frank A. Flint. The opponent of Colonel Spaulding was John D. Works, an insurgent. Baseball fans in all parts of the country are rejoiced to learn of Colonel Spaulding's victory, for he was one of the stars of the diamond in the sixties and still takes an active interest in the game.

HOPED TO TRAP LORIMER.

Assertion of Illinois Legislator During Browne Trial.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—"I wanted to get something on Senator Lorimer; it was not an effort to blackmail him that I offered my manuscript for sale to him. I simply wanted to get a letter from him about it."

This testimony was given today by Representative White in the second trial of Lee O'Neil Browne, who is charged with bribing White to vote for Lorimer for Senator. White wrote the Senator that he had prepared a 30,000 word expose of alleged graft in the Illinois legislature, and that he was to be paid $2 a word for it by a magazine.

Replying to further questions on cross-examination, White said he had written to Browne asking for a loan, not that he needed the money, but because he hoped "to get something on Browne."

The defense pounced on this testimony, declaring that White had sworn in the first trial that he was without funds when he wrote to Browne. They brought out a transcript of White's original testimony in support of the charge.

The witness' avowal that he had hoped to trap Senator Lorimer into making admissions was declared by Browne's counsel to show that the "plot" was less against Browne than against Lorimer.

CUBAN CONDITIONS PRAISED.

Chattanooga Editor Tells of Progress on the Island.

New York, Aug. 23.—George M. Bradt, a native of Chattanooga, Tenn., but for the past ten years publisher of the Hanava Post, arrived in New York from Havana today.

"Conditions in Cuba are 100 per cent. better than people in the States think," said Mr. Bradt. "Up here they are inclined to get excited over reports of revolutionary movements that we don't know exist until a copy of an American newspaper falls into our hands.

"President Gomez is making an exceptionally good executive, even better than his best friends had hoped.

"Cuba's business for this year will break all records. The question of annexation will have to work itself out. It is not generally known, but true nevertheless, that 6,000 Cuban young men and women are receiving their education in the United States. As they return to the island it may be readily seen what a great influence they will have toward Americanizing Cuba."

WOMAN'S LUGGAGE SEIZED.

Attempt to Evade Paying Customs Duty Proved Unsuccessful.

New York, Aug. 23.—When Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dugrenier, of Lawrence, Mass., arrived here today on the steamship Grosser Kurfurs, the customs inspector, after an examination of Mrs. Dugrenier's baggage, declared that they found a number of dutiable articles, which she had not included in her declaration. Their luggage was seized and a hearing was underway when Mr. Dugrenier asked permission to confer with his wife.

Fifteen minutes later man and wife re-appeared from an ante-room, the woman sobbing. "I did not tell the truth," she said between sobs. This ended the hearing and while no arrest was ordered the customs authorities seized a gold chain, three gold watches, three scarf pins and a gold locket.

Mr. Dugrenier, a building contractor, said he knew nothing of the contents of his wife's trunks.

William Tweed Maginnis, a cotton broker of New Orleans, also ran afoul of the customs inspectors today. His trunks was seized because the contents were worth four times the $100 valuation made in the broker's declaration.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Young Printer at Rocky Mount Attempted self Destruction.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 23.—In a fit of despondency due to bad news from home, so friends were told, Mr. John Beach, 19 years old, an employe of the Record, last night attempted suicide by swallowing two ounces of iodine. The young man left his boarding house on Thomas street last night shortly after supper and with a friend came down town and purchased the iodine, claiming that he wanted it for an injured foot. The young man tried to purchase laudanum at another drug store, but not having a prescription the sale was not made.

While returning home he left the friend for a moment, and it was then that he swallowed the drug. The friend heard a noise and went to Mr. Beach to find that he had swallowed the contents of the phial he had just purchased. The young man was taken immediately to his boarding house and physicians summoned, and for several hours last night three of them worked over him. The young man is today in a most serious condition though the poison has been taken from his stomach, it has left him in a perilous condition and there is some doubt as to his recovery. The young man seems to have little regret for his act, and holds out that he desires to end his career.

He came to this city from Franklin, Va., and has been engaged with both printing firms in the city during his stay here. He has a brother engaged in the buggy business in Suffolk, Va., and his mother lives at Franklin, both of whom have been notified.

INSTITUTE IN GRANVILLE.

Teachers Being Instructed and Entertained at Oxford—Social Side.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oxford, N. C., Aug. 23.—No more pleasant or profitable teachers' institute has ever been held in Granville county than the one which is now in progress under the giudance of Prof F. H. Curtis, of Burlington, assisted by Mrs. Kate Hays Fleming, of the local graded schools. Nearly a hundred teachers are in attendance.

The educational and social instinct of Oxford being about evenly balanced it is not to be wondered at that the visitors are regarded by the town as being something more than just teachers, but are looked upon as guests and are being entertained accordingly. At noon Friday when the temperature in the school building was about 80, Mr. Thornton Yancey, cashier of the National Bank of Granville, with Messrs. John Buchanan and Ernest Howard, of the bank's staff, assisted by Misses Mary and Julia Cooper, and Mr. Eliott Cooper, whose father is an officer of the bank; Misses Josephine Brown and Helen Paris, surprised the assembled teachers by serving them with ice cream, fruit punch and cake. When these had been enjoyed to the fullest extent, Mr. Yancay presented to each teacher a souvenir in the shape of a neat glass paperweight bearing a colored picture of the bank building.

The institute will remain in session until the end of next week, the meeting being held in the old graded school building, which has been moved to the rear of the large school lot to make room for the modern brick structure now in course of erection.

FINDS HUSBANDS BODY.

Body Had Swung From Rope Four Days, Turning Black.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Catawba, Aug. 22.—Mr. Charles T. Edwards, who lived in the Hopewell section of Mountain Creek township, this county, was found dead in the garret of his home with a rope to a around his neck and fastened to a rafter yesterday morning by his wife as she returned to her home after a week's visit to her parents near Newton. On reaching home Mrs. Edwards, finding the door closed pushed it open and to her horror found on the floor a pool of blood that had dripped from the lifeless body of her husband as it hung suspended in the garret above. Only a look up the small stairway and there she saw her dead husband almost as black as the clothes he wore. Mr. Edwards was last seen Thursday morning and it is supposed that the act was committed sometime Thursday or Thursday night. The sheriff and county coroner were summoned and an inquest will be held tonight. Whether or not it was a case of suicide or foul play is yet to be decided. Mr. Edwards was about 50 years old and a very respected citizen. He leaves a wife and several children.

MRS. CUDAHY ASKS DIVORCE.

Caused by Sensational Affair in Which Husband Cut Banker.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy filed suit for divorce against J. P. Cudahy, son of the millionaire packer, here today and the plea was granted within ten minutes, she being given alimony of one dollar. The proceedings grew out of the sensational fight March last in which Cudahy seriously cut Jere S. Lillis, president of the Western Reserve Bank, of this city.

RAN, THEN TURNED AND FIRED.

Fatal Shooting in Johnston County Saturday Afternoon.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Smithfield, Aug. 22.—Near the Johnston county line Saturday afternoon, Ransom Bridgers shot and fatally wounded Okra Coats, who died that night. Bridgers came here and surrendered. It seems that the two men had been at outs for some time and that on Saturday afternoon Coats met Bridgers and told him he was going to whip him. Bridgers ran some distance to avoid a fight. He then turned and fired, the load taking effect in Coats' breast.

TRANSPORTATION BY WATER

Hon. Jno. H. Small Speaks of Relation of Improvement to Railways and Need of Terminals—Policy in Germany.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—Representative J. H. Small, of North Carolina, who has within the district which he represents numberless improved and unimproved waterways, has in season and out urged upon Congress the importance of a comprehensive policy in the treatment of our rivers, harbors and canals.

Holding, as he does, advanced views on this most important subject, it is not to be wondered at that he wants legislation which will divorce the waterways from the railways and that each, while acting independently of the other, shall operate together for the development of the trade and commerce, not only of the individual locality, but of the State and the Nation. In that relationship he sees limitless opportunities to increase the output of the farm, the mine and the factory and increased markets as a result of increased opportunities to reach the market.

Speaking of the growing needs for improved waterways and terminals, Mr. Small said: "The excavation of canals and the improvements of streams do not fill all the requirements for the building up of waterway navigation and of waterway traffic. That is a delusion which men thoughtlessly indulge in. There are other essentials in order for the proper untilization of our waterways and for created waterway traffic. Terminals must be constructed. Waterways without terminals are just as useless as railroads without terminals, and whenever there are stopping places, whether it be village, town or city, a proper and modern terminal must be constructed and facilities for handling the freight from the warehouse to the barge or steamer, and vice versa, provided at the cheapest cost. These terminals ought to be owned by the public, either by the State or municipality, and they ought to be free, under proper regulation, for the accommodation of all steamers or barges or other instrumentalities of water traffic. The time has come when we must recognize that railroads and instrumentalities of water traffic must be operated with a common purpose, for the serving of the people and for the public good. There is absolutely no just ground of conflict or of controversy between the waterways and the railroads.

"We are all familiar with the proposition in Germany, where the government owns the railroads; they are making appropriations and engaging in the improvement of their waterways to a greater extent perhaps than any other civilized country in the world, and it would be discreditable to the intelligence of the German people if they were owning their railroads and at the same time improving their waterways, to say that they didn't regard it to the mutual advantage of each. Their interests are mutual and they are co-operating, one with the other. Whatever differences of opinion may have existed in the past, there is, so far as my knowledge goes, no master of railroad transportation today in the country who is adverse, or who is exercising either his individual or public influence against the improvement of our waterways. The improvement of waterways makes for progress, development, increased population, additional manufacturing enterprises and all that means a great volume of business, both of carriage and persons, as well as in freight, and I think it is well that we should at all times keep in mind the fact in order that no evil-minded person shall create upon the public mind any false impression in regard to those who are endeavoring to engage in the development of our waterways, that they are enemies of the railroads in the country.

"There is another feature. To my mind, one of the evils which has come up in recent years has been the joint ownership of the water carriers and the railroads by the same companies. The waterways naturally hold an independent position. Just as it is impossible for one man to serve two masters, so it is absolutely impossible for one set of officials to manage a railroad and water carriers at the same time so as to justly and equitably serve the people, and the time will come when either one of the two conditions will arise in this country that both the water lines and the railroads will be subjected to legislation as will make it impossible for their joint ownership, or their joint ownership will be divorced.

"Much of the wide-spread interest now shown throughout the country in the development of our waterways, is traceable to the work of education, which has been carried on by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which presents the most advanced thought on this very important subject."

SENSATION IN GRANVILLE.

Grave Charges Against Members of Granville County Commissioners.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Durham, August 22.—Warrants against R. V. Lassiter, chairman of Granville County Board of Commissioners; Ralph Currin, W. P. Wilkinson, T. L. Cannady and Commissioner Williford, all members of the Granville board, have been issued charging them with violations. The warrants charge the commissioners with trading and making contracts with themselves, with paying excessive fees, with paying bills against the county neither verified nor itemized, and excessive mileage. One specific charge is that Commissioner Lassiter's son and a man by the name of Chandler, formed a partnership, but in reality the business is that of the chairman, the firm doing road work and having contracts amounting to one hundred thousand. The firm of Bramham & Brawley, of Durham, brings suit upon complaint of many citizens of Granville, all of whom are said to be Democrats, and there is denied any political element in the prosecution. The case will be heard before Judge Pell Thursday of the present week. All of the chances for its going up are good, of course, in which event Solicitor Gattis will assist in the prosecution. The plaintiffs in the action further say that the commissioners have in many particulars failed to comply with the special road law.

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23.—A warrant containing four counts has been issued against the five members of the Granville county commissioners, all Democrats, charging them with failure and neglect to discharge their duty as commissioners. It is alleged that they failed to publish quarterly statement, failed to elect superintendent of roads and road supervisors. It is alleged that the prosecution is political. A Durham law firm has been engaged to prosecute. The commissioners say they will be able to establish innocence.

COLORED FIREMAN HURT.

Probably Fatal Accident on Yards of Norfolk & Southern.

Newbern, N. C., Aug. 23.—Louis Hill, a colored fireman employed by the Norfolk & Southern Railroad in this city, was injured in a very peculiar manner yesterday morning, and now lies at Stewart's Sanatorium in a precarious condition. Hill has been working on one of the yard shifting engines during the past two weeks and yesterday morning reported for work at the usual time. An hour or more after the day's shifting had begun, Hill got down from his seat and after stepping down between the tender and the engine leaned far out to see if the track was clear. In some way he was caught between the tender and the engine and received internal injuries that may prove fatal.

Prescribed by Doctors.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, an honest, tried and true remedy for feminine ills, holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of any similar remedy, and is prescribed and recommended by hundreds of fair-minded doctors who do not fear to recommend a worthy medicine even though it is advertised.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

MARRIED WOMEN

No married woman's happiness is complete without children; she yearns with the deeper longings of her nature for the joys of motherhood. But women who bear children should prepare for the coming of baby by properly caring for their physical systems. Mother's Friend is the expectant mother's greatest help. It is a remedy which prepares the muscles and tendons for the unusual strain, renders the ligaments supple and elastic, aids in expanding the skin and flesh fibres, and strengthens all the membranes and tissues. It is especially valuable where the breasts are troublesome from swelling and congestion, and its regular use will lessen the pain and danger when the little one comes. Women who use Mother's Friend are assured of passing the crisis with safety. It is for sale at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY [Inc.] Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under act of Congress, March 2nd 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carrier in the city or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards or thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms No. 61. Call either if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will be invariably rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Wednesday, August 23, 1910.

An Oklahoma woman has challenged Col. Roosevelt to engage in a joint debate with her. If the Colonel knows as much as he thinks he knows he should not accept that woman's challenge till he consults her husband about how he fares in his arguments with the old lady.

The reason people are coming to eastern North Carolina to live is that they can raise two or three crops a season on the same land and live easier and better than they do anywhere else. Even yellow leg chickens get more to eat and make better gravy than any other people's chickens.

We are down on Ballinger, and, in a way, can't stand for Speaker Cannon, but we may as well admit right here and right now that we have a sort of admiration for their spirit in refusing to have tin cans tied to them so they can chase themselves out of camp.

Republicans are satisfied that Speaker Cannon can never be elected Speaker again and are worrying about whom they will make Speaker. They needn't worry about picking any Republican for the place, as the Democrats will pick the right kind of a man to succeed Uncle Joe.

Editor Wade Harris continues to hang on to the hobble skirt. He knows nothing of the hobble skirt, but we bet he got stuck on it because he saw a Charlotte girl wearing one on Tryon street. Any kind of a dress and a gingham apron would look like the latest style from Paris, if it were a Charlotte girl who happens to wear it.

The Charlotte Observer announces that Vice President Sherman will speak in that city in October and at other North Carolina points during the campaign. Democrats should not be afraid of any speech that "Sunny Jim" might make. A Vice President is as liable to make as big a slip in his speech as President Taft did at Winona.

President Taft is crying aloud for harmony in the Republican ranks. When opposition is of no consequence we ignore it. When it grows we begin to make concessions. Sometimes we are too slow in making concessions and then it is too late to secure harmony. If the Republican party has not been guilty of wrong-doing there would be no need for harmony.

President Taft sent Senator Crane to the West as his emissary to feel how the Republican pulse was beating towards him. The Senator returned and reported that the administration was gaining strength. When the President read about the insurgent victories in Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Iowa and California, probably he wondered if he hadn't sent the wrong man out as a spy.

In wine producing countries like Germany and France cobwebs sell for good prices to the bottlers of wines. The cobwebs are treated so they will adhere to the corks of the bottles and packages, thus giving the wines the appearance of age. In this country at this time the Republican party will spend barrels of money for the distribution of threadbare political yarns so worked over that they will appear new.

The desire for luxuries on the part of women and men is growing like blazes. The more they grow the stronger becomes the demand that these desires must be satisfied. When desires are satisfied the pocket book becomes so depleted that people cannot supply their Wants much less their desires. Thus some of us remain poor, or get poorer, instead of supplying our wants and then depositing in the savings bank the money we spend for the gratification of our desires.

HIGHWAY MEETING CALLED.

Editor H. C. Dockery, of the Rockingham Post, is a good man to get behind a proposition. He has displayed fine qualities as a promoter in connection with his suggestion for a modern highway from Wilmington to the mountains by way of Charlotte and intermediate towns. He made that proposition and went right down after it in a way that aroused the enthusiasm of the editors in every county along the route. He has hustled things in a lively way, and, now that public sentiment has been created in favor of the project, a highway convention has been called to take the matter in hand in a business-like way. The meeting will be held at Laurinburg on Friday, September 2nd, at 10 A. M. at the Court House. Editor Dockery in an editorial in the Post, referring to the proposed convention, says:

"Please be there in 'large quantities.' This fine project must go through. We must be quick about it. Don't let it drag. We want a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting. We want every county along the the route represented. We want to find out local conditions in each county; and if bad, go to work to make them good. We want representatives from each county to be there, with facts and figures, with diagrams and suggestions. We want to organize and get to work. We believe the newspapers and people along the route are aroused and interested. This Laurinburg meeting will be a big and important one. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt and other speakers will attend. This highway can be built. Let's do it. Let's do it without much meeting. All are invited. Let no county turn up missing. On to Laurinburg and on with the highway."

In another editorial the Post says:

"At the meeting of friends and advocates of the Wilmington-to-Charlotte Highway called for Laurinburg on Friday, September 2nd, 1910, the county commissioners and good roads commissioners of the several townships and counties should be represented, and the garages and hotels should show a lively interest. Let's get gay over the thing. The Post confidently expects this meeting to be a success, and to put the highway movement on a permanent and successful basis. Laurinburg will prepare to entertain us royally. Let's all go!"

From the very beginning of this proposition for a "Mountain to the Sea Highway," the Star endorsed it, because it was a practical movement and was one capable of being pushed to completion. We recognized its great importance and have heartily favored the project because it was an enterprise in which Wilmington could show that she would not be behind any city in the State in her efforts to be connected with all portions of the State by good roads.

The meeting at Laurinburg, September 2nd, should be made a big event and enthusiastic representatives should be there from every county. The Star has been delegated to urge representation of New Hanover, Bladen, Brunswick and Columbus counties, as Editor Dockery writes us that he is exceedingly anxious to have delegates from these counties present. His suggestion that county commissioners and good roads commissioners should be especially interested and have representatives at that highway convention is especially important. The Star, therefore, earnestly requests the commissioners of New Hanover and her sister counties to act promptly and be sure that their counties are represented at Laurinburg. Every man in any of the counties interested in the proposed highway in particular and good roads in general should appoint themselves delegates and make a bee-line for Laurinburg on the 1st day of September so they can be present when the convention is called to order at 10 o'clock next morning. Laurinburg is making big preparations to entertain all of us who go, and not only is there a good time in store for all who go but it is business of the most vital character.

That proposed highway from the seashore to the mountains is a project that can be carried out in short order, and eastern North Carolina should take a hand in it in order to show that nothing will be left undone to put our section of the State in close touch with the live communities of the interior. Other portions of the State are being connected up with modern roads and we must not lag behind any portion of North Carolina in so vital a matter. Get ready for that convention and be there on the 2nd of September when the roll is called for live men engaged in a big undertaking, easy of accomplishment within a short time.

Everybody is a robber who is not willing to pay you a big price so you can get rich quick.

What is an ex-President anyhow, when a Vice President doesn't hesitate to sit down on him?

It is now announced that Col. Roosevelt will take up the study of farming. That is right. He should study all about it, so he won't make the farmers laugh when he begins to tell them what they already know.

A Pennsylvania man went out with his wife to see her shoot a dog, but she shot her husband instead. He failed to take warning from the well known fact that no innocent bystander is safe when a woman goes to shoot or throw a stone.

THE "REFEREES" AGAINST ROOSEVELT.

In making reflections upon the Republican party in North Carolina for fighting over political spoils ,President Taft has seen the "chickens come home to roost" nearer home. Nationally his party is as much disgraced in that respect as is North Carolina Republicanism. The Federal patronage from time immemorial has been handed out from Washington in a way to build up machines and secure nominations, and the Roosevelt administration was especially malodorous in that respect, while the Taft administration has not neglected to look after itself in every particular in which its future is involved. Insurgency in the West has been brought about because the Republican party blindly committed itself to the special and favored interests in levying the tariff, but the dissensions in the party in the East have been caused by precisely the same thing over which North Carolina Republicans have been wont to wrangle, viz: The spoils of office.

In the Northern States machines have been built up in States, counties and cities, and the evidence crops out every day that State and Federal patronage and the distribution of offices of all kinds is the object of what are known as State, county or city "organizations." It was the New York State "organization" which only a few days ago was guilty of disrespect to a man who had been the President of the American people. The "organization" did not want ex-President Roosevelt to get too large a political hold on New York, for it meant the doom of the political cliques and coterie which have heretofore been supremely in control of the party machinery. That accounts for the action taken a few days ago by the State Republican Executive Committee when it turned down Colonel Roosevelt for the temporary chairmanship of the State convention soon to be held at Rochester. It was a bold and disgraceful proceeding and Vice President Sherman was a party to it. He belongs to the Republican State machine and he did not hesitate to lend his name and influence to the deliberate purpose of administering a rebuff to the ex-President. It was done to save the State machine and it shows to what length the machine will go rather than run the risk of losing its hold.

We observe the Republican party now engaged in National and State dissensions quite as disgraceful as those which have typified North Carolina Republicanism. Butler and Morehead made a fight for control of the North Carolina Republican "organization" upon the charge that the old organization was a "close corporation" banded together in office brokerage, and they anathematized the old leaders as "the referees." However, there are Republican "close corporations" and "referees" at the National Capital, at State capitals and especially in New York State where the "referees" were so flagrant in the pursuit of their political aims that they heaped insult on a distinguished man who should have been secure in the honor of having been the Chief Magistrate of the biggest Republic on earth and the whilom head of one of the world powers. Such an action as that on the part of the New York State machine is well calculated to bring our political system into contempt in the eyes of Europe.

The act to which Vice President Sherman was a party threatened a serious break between President Taft and ex-President Roosevelt. It precipitated a National scandal, and that there was a breach between these two distinguished Americans is fully explained by the Associated Press dispatches which stated yesterday morning the particulars concerning what may be, or most likely is not, an adjustment of the misunderstanding. The disgraceful action which resulted in the naming of Vice President Sherman for convention chairman over ex-President Roosevelt brought matters to such a pitch that a President of the United States had to repudiate the transaction in order to set himself right with an ex-President of the American Republic! The repudiation of that transaction logically carried with it the repudiation of Vice President Sherman himself. That will be a poor recommendation for him when he visits North Carolina in October to preach his political doctrines to the people of a proud Southern State.

CURRENT COMMENT.

For one man who is ambitious to leave footprints in the sands of time there are a dozen who want to cover up their tracks.—Philadelphia Record.

"Now Nick Longworth is knocking your Uncle Joe Cannon," says the Athens Banner. When Congress meets watch Uncle Joe make him feel like Sick Shortworth.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

If the legalized primary will come nearer resulting in the people selecting the men they want to reprsnt thm than any other plan, that is sufficient argument in its favor.—Lumberton Robesonian.

Congress has made no traveling appropriation for the ex-President, but Mr. Roosevelt is going all the way to California and will speak in every State going and coming. Will the Regular Republicans defray his traveling expenses?—Philadelphia Record.

Only a few more weeks of Summer; only a few more weeks of the bathing beaches; only a few more weeks of the straw hats; and then the melancholy days, when the iceman counts up his profits and the coalman's smile broadens into the normal Winter gloat.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What is to become of the Roosevelt speech for Slemp? If the Colonel aligns himself with the insurgents, he attacks his candidate's platform; if he sticks to Taft and Cannon, he sacrifices his own hopes. If he does the one, he ruins Slemp; if he does the other, he ruins himself. The signs all point to the Colonel's regrets instead of the Colonel.—Richmond Virginian.

Midsummer political stories from Beverly assure us that "one of the objects of the proposed new order of things in the Republican party is to bring the administration more in touch with the people and spirit of the West." It now remains to be seen only what is the spirit of the West. And that is what Senator Crane came West to find out.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

"Marion Butler has 'come back' at a mighty bad time for fooling the people," observes the Wilmington Star. "North Carolina once had so much Butler her name dragged in the mire and there was so much humiliation, turmoil and bloodshed that the people's righteous judgment reasserted itself and redeemed the State. One experience in redeeming North Carolina from Butlerism is quite enough. Indeed!" This is rather a pointed shot, for it is history.—Greensboro Record.

The suggestion of the Tar Heel editor that North Carolina construct a "Mountains to the Sea Highway" is receiving the vigorous support of his brother editors in practically every section of the State. Why not a similar highway for Virginia? And why not make the beginning with the proposed highway from Norfolk to Richmond via Petersburg? A movement to that end was inaugurated, we believe, some time ago, but for some reason or other was allowed to lapse. It ought to be revived and pushed to the earliest possible consummation. —Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Drunkenness at public gatherings in North Carolina is almost a thing of the past. Last month the editor of this paper spoke at a big gathering in Iredell which was attended by 7,000 people and not a person of that vast crowd was under the influence of liquor. Last week 10,000 people attended the Confederate Reunion in Catawba county, where Dr. B. F. Dixon spoke, and there was not a drunken person there. Ten years ago this would have been regarded as almost a miracle. Sobriety and temperance are making mighty strides in North Carolina!—Raleigh News and Observer.

By way of supplementing the address of the Arkansas negro millionaire to the New York Business League last week, we are quoting from an address delivered by Andrew Carnegie, who said: "We hear much of the unsatisfactory relations between the two races in the South, but we may safely conclude that the peaceful settlement of thousands of negro landlords would have been impossible and on the part of the negroes undesired had there not been peace and good will btween them and their white neighbors." The case could not have been more accurately presented in any number of words.—Salisbury Post.

The Savannah Press having boasted that the steamer Sigmaringen left Savannah a few days ago drawing nearly 27 feet. The Columbia State says in behalf of South Carolina's chief seaport that several years ago the steamer Manchester came into Charleston drawing 30 feet. The Savannah organ claimed that the Sigmaringen made a new record not only for Savannah but for all South Atlantic ports. Surely this latter statement entitles Norfolk, as well as Charleston, to interplead. Wilmington, which does more foreign business than Norfolk and Charleston combined, will show them all business wonders when she gets her thirty-foot depth.—Charlotte Observer.

There will be as many interpretations of the so-called "local self-government plank" in the Republican platform as Republican speakers think are necessary to get votes. The latest is by Mose Harshaw, who made a speech in Salisbury. He is thus quoted by the Salisbury Post: "Taking up the question of local self-government, Mr. Harshaw denounced the prohibition bill as discriminatory in favor of the eastern vineyard and against the western apple orchard. Here came the feature of the speech and the first utterance of the kind in public by any leading North Carolina Republican. Mr. Harshaw interpreted the local self-government plank of the Republican platform to mean making the county a unit on the prohibition question and was emphatic in declaring his conviction that every county should be permitted to settle the matter for itself." The Wilmington men who oppose State prohibition are just as much opposed to having the voters in New Hanover outside the corporate limits settling what Wilmington shall do as they are to the present law. They would insist upon letting each town settle the matter for itself and resent the right of a man living 20 miles from the county seat dictating the policy of the county seat. But there are 23 skiddoo, more interpretations to come later.—Raleigh News and Observer.

SANITARY CONDITIONS.

Rev. J. S. Crowley Calls Attention to Evils for Prompt Remedies.

Mr Editor:—I have noticed a great deal lately about the sanitary conditions of our city. My contribution may not be worth very much, but as it seems to be a time for cleaning up I thought I might make a suggestion. In the southern part of the city a great deal of the trash is dumped; this trash is composed of all sorts of stuff, such as dead hens, dogs, cats, and various other objectionable things. As these decay, the southwest wind brings the objectionable odor, and the flies from the carcases of these decaying animals. I do not know whose duty it is to look after this matter, but it does seem as though it might be remedied. A number of people have called my attention to this condition, and have asked me to make objection. I have told them to make their own complaint, but they say: "No attention is paid to us." I, therefore, suggest that the Golden Rule be followed. Whoever has the power to change conditions, put yourselves in the other fellow's place.

I called at the home of a poor woman the other day. She was not at home. I went to the back part of the house, thinking she might be at work in the garden, and to my surprise, there was an open privy, with thousands of flies and millions of maggots almost ready to become flies, and a most awful stench, almost enough to knock one down. And this poor woman and two real nice little girls have to eat their meals and cook them in the face of these conditions every day, and sleep under the same conditions. This is only one case out of the many. I am not hitting at anybody, but as there is so much being done on sanitary lines, and as the State has gone to the trouble to send out the bulletin every month, and has so much to say about the flies and the disease carried by them, I thought it might not be amiss to lay these two facts before the people. And to show that I am not hitting in the dark, I hereby subscribe my name.

ENGINEER'S HEROIC ACTION

Saved Baby From Death Under Train on Wilmington & Weldon Railroad Yesterday Morning. Deserving of Medal.

Frequently read about in story books, but seldom encountered in actual experience, was the heroic deed of Atlantic Coast Line Engineer D. B. Branch, of this city, in saving the life of a tiny tot that had wandered on the railroad track in front of his locomotive just this side of Burgaw, on the Wilmington & Weldon road, yesterday as he was pulling a through freight train to Wilmington from Rocky Mount.

Just after passing Burgaw Engineer Branch had increased his speed to 20 miles an hour when he observed an object on the track which he at first mistook for a newspaper. On getting a little closer he discovered that the object on the line was a child ostensibly asleep on the track. Many a man of less nerve would have quailed before the sight, but not so Engineer Branch. With a nerve of steel and with a presence of mind that is rare, even with railroad men, he shut off his steam, threw on his emergency brake and sprang from the cab to the running board along the engine, knowing full well that with even these precautions, it would be impossible to bring the heavy train to a standstill before the child was reached. Climbing along the running board of the roaring, grinding engine, under the grip of the emergency, the young engineer reached the front of the big, throbbing locomotive just in time to reach forward and snatch the child to a place of safety as he fell himself from the running board to the front and one side of the engine. The child two years old, was restored to the mother's arms at a farm house close to the railroad track, the scene being affecting in the extreme. The act of the young engineer deserves the highest praise and it should bring forth an expression from the trustees of the Carnegie Medal Fund. Engineer Branch was in the city yesterday and modestly told of the incident at his home on North Fourth street, where he is well known and is popular in railroad circles.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT.

Much Interest as to Probable Action Relative to Sixth District.

There is great local interest in the probable action of the State Democratic Executive Committee called to meet in Raleigh tonight to hear the report of the "harmony committee" which recently investigated the Sixth District Congressional muddle. Friends of Congressman Godwin assert that they rather think the action will be favorable to their choice, while friends of Mr. O. L. Clark say as much for their man.

Ever since the announcement some days ago of the delegates appointed by Governor Kitchin to the waterways convention, there has been much speculation as to why Congressman Godwin's name was not on the list. Some thought it an error, while others were inclined to think it indicated that the Governor did not favor Mr. Godwin in his contest with Mr. Clark. However, a majority agreed that the Governor could ill afford to do anything that would look as if he were taking sides in the controversy and thought the omission of the Congressman's name from the list of delegates was an error, which was explained fully in the Raleigh dispatches to the Star yesterday morning.

CROWDS AT CAROLINA BEACH.

Large Number Go Down to the Resort Every Day on Steamer.

Mr. H. C. Pearsall, the popular manager of the Carolina Beach hotel, Carolina Beach, spent last night in the city on business. He stated that there had been large crowds at the beach this week, especially on Monday. The steamer Wilmington, on its first trip yesterday, took 200 or more to the resort and 100 of these were guests for dinner at the beach hotel. More than a hundred went to the resort on the afternoon trip of the steamer. A large number of visitors are expected in the city today and Mr. Pearsall expects many to visit Carolina Beach. Several Wilmingtonians have been guests at the hotel for some days as well as a number from a distance.

Mr. Pearsall, who took charge of the hotel only about three weeks ago, stated that a number of improvements would be made on the hotel building before the opening of another season and that additional rooms would be provided. Besides, it is expected that there will be an increased number of boats to and from the pier.

COURT MARTIAL ON CUTTER.

Trial of Two Wilmington Boys Who Deserted—Other Charges.

A court martial is in progress on the revenue cutter Seminole conducted by Second Lieutenant Thompson, president of the court, and Officers Wishaar and Doran, for two deserters, Willie Sanford and a youth named Smith, both white and former residents of the city, and J. T. Dugen and Henry Bestwoda, for disobedience and violating shore liberty. All those on trial are sailors.

Both deserters left the cutter while she was at the Norfolk ship yard for repairs. Sanford was caught at Ocean View, where he had secured work and Smith went aboard the cutter last Monday and surrendered. William King, a negro, also deserted the ship while she was at Norfolk, and is still at large.

Evidence is being taken and will be submitted to the Department, which will pass on the findings, and make report to Capt. R. O. Crisp, the commanding officer.

They Have a Definite Purpose.

I am again able to be up and attend to my work. I shall never hesitate to recommend them." Robt. R. Bellamy.

NEW WRIGHTSVILLE HOTEL

Promoters Announce That It is Now Assured Success—Mr. Chas. E. Hooper, of Charlotte, Here Yesterday.

Mr. Charles E. Hooper, of Charlotte, probably one of the most capable and efficient hotel managers in the South, has been spending a few days in the city in the interest of the proposed new hotel for Wrightsville Beach.

Mr. Hooper speaks in enthusiastic manner of the undertaking and it seems now an assured fact that Wrightsville Beach is to have another hotel. The promoters of this enterprise expect to open to the public a $250,000 establishment by the first of next May. Thus the season of 1911 bids fair to find the already popular beach second to none along the Atlantic seaboard. Mr. George G. Carter, of Atlanta, who is the moving spirit in this promotion, states that the concentrated thought of Wilmington, together with the financial support and encouragemen. which he has received from its business men, has already placed the proposition beyond the speculative stage. He says that Wilmington people are enthusiastic over the subject, and that everyone agrees that Wrightsville is the place and now is the time for the erection of a first class hotel.

This probably means more to Wilmington than one is wont to think. Adequate accommodations for the thousands of visitors who come to the coast annually must be provided; or else, Wrightsville is bound to lose its supremacy as a seashore resort. The potential possibilities here are too great and Wilmington is too rich to allow its beach to stand other than first, but this can only be accomplished by giving united effort to that which means progress.

The success of the movement means a gain to the city and beach in dollars and cents. An institution which will afford sufficient accommodation for those who are now unable to obtain such, is an absolute necessity. Not only do the men who are behind the new hotel propose to satisfy every demand, but they hope to make Wilmington their debtor by erecting here and establishment which will invite capitalists who are looking for investments, to the city and coast. Such an enterprise deserves the hearty support and encouragement of every citizn.

MOTOR BOAT REGULATIONS.

Laws Regarding Lights and Life Preservers Must be Observed.

Stringent orders from the Treasury Department regarding the enforcement of the new motor boat laws and regulations, passed by a recent act of Congress and effective on July 9th, 1910, and recently published in full in these columns, have been issude to the Collector of Customs and to the officers of the Revenue Cutter Service, who will see that they are carried out by the boat owners at this port.

What is considered the most important clause of the new act has reference to the lights and life preservers and rigid inspection will be made in the near future. Boats that are not carrying the proper equipment will be reported to the Collector of Customs and in order to enforce the regulations the Department has provided special means for the inspection duty.

The new regulations have been effective over a month and a half and violators are liable to a fine not exceeding $100. Capt. R. O. Crisp, of the Revenue Cutter Seminole, and Collector Keith, pursuant to Department orders, will make the necessary inspection, similar to those being made at other ports. The new act will be of great aid to navigation and will lessen possibility of collisions of vessels and other accidents on the water.

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

Mr. J. A. Taylor Elected First Vice President and Mr. John H. Brown to the Directorate—Meeting Yesterday Morning.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Southern National Bank, held in its banking rooms yesterday morning, Mr. J. A. Taylor, who has been a director of the bank continuously since its organization in September 1905, was unanimously elected first vice president, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. D. L. Gore some time ago.

Further interest in the meeting was caused by the election to the directorate of Mr. John Hill Brown, senior member of Brown Brothers, the old and well established firm of brokers and commission merchants on Water street. Mr. Brown takes the place of former director, Mr. L. Hanson, who with Mr. Gore retired some time ago, all with mutual good feeling and with continued interest in the progress and prosperity of the bank.

The acquisition of these two prominent business men will undoubtedly tend to further advance the business success of the Southern National. The bank has been most prosperous since organization in September 1905 Beginning with a capital stock of $200,000, paid in, and a subscribed surplus of $100,000, all of which was fully paid by March 1906, the bank has returned to its stockholders $58,000 in cash dividends, charged off $4,000 for furniture and fixtures, $9,000 premium paid on Government bonds, and has at present its full paid capital, $200,000, surplus $100,000, and undivided profits approximately now $60,000.

The average earnings on capital stock has amounted to about 13 per cent. per annum from the date of organization. The total resources of the bank at present are about $2,000,000.

At the last annual meeting the usual semi-annual dividend was increased from 4 per cent. to 5 per cent., thus putting the stock on a basis of 10 per cent. per annum.

The friends of the institution concede that Mr. J. A. Taylor, for years president of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, and owning one of the largest wholesale grocery establishments in the Carolinas, will add considerably to the prosperity of the bank. Mr. Taylor stands as one of the foremost business men of the State. Closely associated with, and in fact directing, as he has, many measures concerned with the upbuilding and best interests of the city of Wilmington, he is at the same time admittedly one of the best credit men in the South. The bank is, therefore, to be congratulated in having him active in the administration of its affairs, and, in the absence of the president, he will be the first executive in charge. His intimate acquaintance with the mercantile interests of Wilmington and surrounding country will undoubtedly win many new friends for the Southern National.

No less can be said of Mr. John H. Brown, who comes to the bank as a director, having taken the oath of office today. Mr. Brown for years has been identified with the business interests of Wilmington, is well and favorably known to the largest wholesale shippers of the country, and is a man of keen and conservative business judgment.

The present officers and directors of the bank are as follows: Chas. N. Evans, president; J. A. Taylor first vice president; Hugh MacRae, Second vice president; J. W. Simpson, cashier. Directors: Chas. N. Evans, J. A. Taylor, Hugh MacRae, J. H. Rehder, Isadore Bear, Eduard Ahrens, Z. W. Whitehead, Jurgen Haar, S. O. Middleton, Hallsville, N. C.,; C. C. Pridgen, president Bank of Tabor, Tabor, N. C.; H. C. Bridger, president Bank of Bladenboro, Bladenboro, N. C.

WATERWAYS DELEGATES.

Wilmington Will Have Strong Delegation at Providence Meeting.

As stated yesterday morning, as the date approaches, there is increasing interest in the great waterways convention to be held at Providence, R. I., August 31st, September 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Wilmington will be well represented not only by appointments from the Chamber of Commerce and North Carolina Waterways Association, but by delegates commisisoned by Governor Kitchin, a list of which from all over the State have been published in the Raleigh dispatches. Among those who will attend from Wilmington are President Jas. H. Chadbourn and Secretary and Treasurer Meares Harriss of the North Carolina Waterways Association; Messrs. D. McEachern, C. N. Evans, Eric Norden, J. B. Mercer, M. W. Divine, H. G. Smallbones, Capt. Edgar D. Williams and Jos. W. Little, Esq. Still others will also likely attend, as aside from the importance of the convention, the trip will be a most delightful one for the business men

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Unruly Negro Given Six Months on the County Roads.

The principal defendant in yesterday morning's session of the Recorder's court was Dave Sanders, colored, who was arraigned on three charges—disorderly conduct, resisting an officer and assault with deadly weapon on an officer. The case was continued from Monday on account of the absence from the city of B. G. Empie, Esq., counsel for the defendant. It appears that when Officer Hall attempted to arrest Sanders for disorderly conduct the negro offered strenuous resistance and threw a rock at the officer. The Recorder suspended judgment in the disorderly conduct and resisting an officer cases, but for assault the negro was sentenced to six months on the roads.

gime, that the new government will not recognize their right to perform consular duties for Nicaragua.

Decree Issued by Estrada.

Managua, Nica., Aug. 23.—In a lengthy decree issued today Jose Dolores Estrada, who temporarily assumed the reins of government when President Madriz vacated his office and fled the country, gives full recognition to the provisional government formed at Bluefields last year with his brother, General Juan Estrada, as president. In doing so, however, he stipulates that a regular and free election for the office of chief executive of the Republic must be held within six months.

The decree also names the members of a commission, the duty of which will be to draw up and have signed by the hostile factions a permanent treaty of peace. In part the instrument follows:

"As a Congressman and Provisional President of the Republic, and by virtue of my legal faculties and recognizing the necessity to put to an end the bloody civil war that is exhausting us, I, Jose Dolores Estrada decree:

"First, to recognize as the provisional government of Nicaragua, the one started by the revolution at Bluefields on October 10th of last year, of which the provisional president is Juan Estrada.

"Second, the appointment of a commission of peace, composed of Rafael Cabrera, Salvador Castrillo, Hildebran Castellon, General Jose Leon Castillo and Tomas Martinez, which will make known this decree to the military commander of the revolution, agreeing to a suspension of hostilities until the arrival of the new President at the capital.

"Third, That if the commission should meet General Estrada en route to the capital it is empowered to sign a convention of peace in accordance with this decree and will ask for a conference with this executive at once at a convenient place.

"Fourth, That in case General Estrada is too far away from the front the committee is authorized to propose to the military chiefs that they select a person, who, in the name of the revolution, and associated with the provisional executive, shall organize a governmental junta to act as the supreme power until the arrival of President Estrada.

"Fifth, That General Estrada must call a free election for the office of President of the Republic within a reasonable time, not to exceed six months, the said election to be in accordance with the principles of the Liberal and Conservative parties.

"Sixth, That if any of the commissioners chosen are unable to accept this humanitarian and patriotic mission the remaining commissioners will choose substitutes with full powers to act.

(Signed) JOSE DOLORES ESTRADA
A. PALLA, Sub-Secretary."

Senor Estrada said he would await the return of the peace commissioners to Managua when the revolutionary and government soldiers would be disarmed and sent to their homes. The advance guard of the provisional army consisting of 100 cavalry, arrived here today.

The acting President today issued instructions that beginning September 1, corn, beans, rice, lard, sugar, flour, kerosene, gasoline, candles, soap, tallow, oils, acids and disinfectants would be given free importation into the Republic.

SIBLEY ON BAD CHARGE.

Conspiracy to Defraud Voters of Warren County, Pa.—Congressmen.

Warren, Pa., Aug. 23.—The information upon which warrants were issued for four Congressmen, Joseph Sibley, who was arrested here today, and others, charged with conspiracy to "debauch the voters of Warren" was returned to the office of Justice Perry tonight. The information asserts that the accused used the following sums of money paid over by Sibley and his secretary, Frank H. Taylor: To Chas. Crandall $13.800; George B. Munn, $5,500; D. M. Howard, $4,00; D. F. Wheelock, $2,500; William McCrays, $250; C. J. Bibson, $625; R. J. Schumacher, $635; Albert Erickson, $810, and John A. Swanson, $1,000.

The information was made by Constable W. I. Page, who is represented by Attorney D. I. Ball. The latter said tonight that the action against Sibley and the others was begun at the instance of the Warren County Civic League.

The league is composed of Republicans, Democrats, prohibitionists and men of other political faith. According to Ball, Sibley's withdrawal from the Congressional race will have no effect on the league's activity. The attorney asserted that Nelson P. Wheeler, Sibley's Republican opponent in the primaries, and William J. Breene, the Democratic nominee, knew nothing of the prosecution's plans until the arrests were made public.

YOUNG DEFEATS MAYNARD.

Will Represent Second Congressional District of Virginia.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 23.—With only two small precincts to hear from, returns from all over the Second Congressional district indicate the election of William A. Young, as the Democratic candidate over Congressman Harry L. Maynard, who has represented the district in the House for ten years.

Young's majority without the two missing precincts is 210. The missing precincts, both in Norfolk county, will probably increase his majority to about 250. Congressman Maynard refused to concede his defeat at midnight, despite the fact that the missing precincts, even if in his favor, cannot change the result materially.

William A. Young has twice before been elected to Congress from this district, but was unseated both times by a Republican Congress on the ground that negroes were not allowed to vote in some sections.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 23.—The Ancient Order of Hibernians of Virginia, with the ladies' auxiliary of that organization, met here today in biennial session. Aside from the election of officers, which is to take place tomorrow, the principal matter of business before the convention is in relation to the mortuary fund.

THE DOCKERY HIGHWAY.

Charlotte Chronicle an Enthusiastic Advocate of the Road.

The Charlotte Chronicle is one of the most able and enthusiastic advocates of Col. H. C. Dockery's Wilmington to Charlotte Highway and in its issue yesterday afternoon has this to say of the Laurinburg meeting in a few days:

"A meeting to formally inaugurate a movement for a good road from Charlotte to Wilmington, will be held in Laurinburg on September 2nd. In calling the meeting, Editor Dockery, of the Rockingham Post, the originator of the plan, says: 'We want all the friends of the movement to be present. This one meeting ought to be enough to put the thing through. We don't want to meet and meet, and meet again, but we want every county represented. Let's get the situation in each locality well in hand, and put the project through without delay. It ought not to take always to do things. We sincerely hope that you will get a strong representative delegation from your section. It will be a pity for any county not to be represented. The more folks we have present, the quicker we can put the thing through.' The Chronicle believes that this road is going to be built, and that with but little delay. The gaps to be filled are not numerous or difficult. When this road is completed, Charlotte automobilists can give the Seaboard trains odds and beat them to Wilmington. The Dockery road is coming.

TIGERS AGAINST CUBS.

The Former Won Exciting Game of Indoor Baseball Last Night.

Junior indoor baseball proved as much of a drawing card as ever before at the Young Men's Christian Association last night and a fast and most interesting game was played by the teams competing viz, the Tigers and the Cubs. The Tigers won the game by the close score of seven to six, and are now well in the lead for second place in the league which ends on the night of the 25th. The league standing is: Giants, .820; Tigers, .416; Cubs, .270. The last game of the series will be played Friday night between the Cubs and the Giants.

Mrs. Ellen Welch Passes.

Rev. E. R. Welch, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, was called to Clio, S. C., Monday by a telegram conveying to him the sad intelligence of the death of his mother, Mrs. Ellen Welch, who passed away Monday morning. She was 66 years old. Mr. Welch will have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in his bereavement.

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 23.—Hedgwood Boy 2:02 1-4 with McMahon up today beat Minor Heir 1:59 1-4 (Hersey) and George Gano 2:03 3-4 (Gano) in a special mile race at the Great Western Circuit Meet. The stallion paced within half second of the world race record and lowered his own mark one and one-quarter seconds. His time was 29 3-4; 1:00; 1:30; 2:01. Minor Heir finished almost nose and nose with Hedgwood Boy while Gano paced the mile in 2:02.

New York, Aug. 23.—Mayor Gaynor spent a couple of hours out of bed today sitting in his arm chair and walking about his room. His recovery has now progressed to that stage that none of his attending physicians remained with him last night.

of bringing the flames under control. The town of Troy is threatened.

From the Idaho side furious fires are reported coming over the divide at the head of Rock Creek and heading toward eight mile creek. This fire has a front of 18 miles, and is said to be extending along Deer Creek in the direction of Bonner.

A late report from Supervisor Koch, who is at St. Regis, indicates that many of the men reported to have perished in Buford Gulch are safe at St. Regis, and are assisting in driving back the fires that threaten the town.

Reports were circulated today that incendiaries attempted to spread new fires at St. Regis last night. The charges were made that unidentified persons were detected hurling burning brands among the buildings in the business quarter of the old town. No arrests were reported.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railroad today sent from Missoula two work and relief trains to the West End of the line to repair bridges and seek out refugees.

At Lookout, Idaho, the Northern Pacific station was burned yesterday forenoon. The approaches to the Dorsey tunnel are gone.

Fear 600 Have Perished.

Butte, Ont., Aug. 23.—Six hundred fire fighters who left Thompson Falls four days ago, are reported lost and Forest Supervisor Bushnell, of the cabinet reserve at Thompson, fears all may have perished. The wind is blowing furiously toward Thompson today and it is feared the town, crowded with refugees, will be swept by fire before night.

The report was brought by Julius Barney, who reached Helena today from Thompson.

The 600 men, said Barney, "had been four days during which nothing had been heard from them and Forest Supervisor Busrnell of the cabinet reserve, who is at Thompson, feared all were dead when I left Thompson this

Butte, Mont., Aug. 23.—Although thousands of persons are suffering greatly from the heat generated by the fires, it is cold enough to snow tonight along the eastern border of the fire zone in Montana.

A heavy rain which may turn to snow before morning, began falling in the Lincoln country on the Blackfoot river today, according to advices from Flesher tonight. However, the two fires in that district were both under control.

The fire was less than three miles from Lincoln when the wind veered.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—Reports tonight dispel earlier fear of wholesale loss of life in the forest fires that still rage in Idaho, Washington and Montana, causing havoc and loss of probably 500 lives.

As time passes, men thought lost report to headquarters. Wire communication is broken and others now missing will probably turn up safe later.

Ranger VanDyke, on Independence Creek, and Ranger Derrick, at Saltese, Mont., both reported their men safe tonight. It had been feared that VanDyke's crew of 70 men had been cut off.

Ranger H. F. Kottkey has not yet reported, but hunting for him is not given up.

Conditions near Missoula, Mont., are greatly improved tonight. Rain has fallen at DeBorgia and at Iron Mountain, Mont., on the west and in the upper Blackfoot valley on the east.

Reports are coming in to show that conditions are not as bad as had been feared. St. Regis, Mont., is safe and probably will escape. A party of 165 men supposed to be lost and dead was found today in the upper St. Joe valley where the men had been in a tunnel. They were unharmed.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 23.—George Cameron, Jr., president of the National Bnak of Petersburg, was tonight elected mayor of this city to fill the unexpired term (two years) of the late Mayor William M. Jones. Mr. Cameron, opposed by Attorney Paul Pettit and Capt. E. H. Patterson, was chosen on the second ballot by a vote of 17 to 16 at a special joint meeting of the board of Aldermen and Common Council. On the first ballot Mr. Pettit was eliminated.

DIVORCE TO MRS CUDAHY

Caused By Sensational Affair When Husband Cut Banker.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—As a sequel to John P. (Jack) Cudahy's attack with a knife on Jere S. Lucas in the Cudahy residence shortly after midnight of March 5, Mrs. Cudahy today obtained a divorce.

The decree was granted by Judge James H. Slover on the grounds of incompatibility of temper, ten minutes after Mrs. Cudahy had filed her petition.

Mrs. Cudahy and her maid, Elizabeth Johnson, were the only witnesses. No mention was made of the Lillies cutting affair.

Cudahy was not in court. Attorneys represented him at the hearing, but they made no protest against the decree. It is said that General John C. Cowin, of Omaha, father of Mrs. Cudahy and Michael Cudahy, the defendant's father, brought about an amicable settlement outside of court.

By the terms of the decree, Mrs. Cudahy receives alimony of $1. A friend of Mrs. Cudahy, however, asserted that Michael Cudahy had agreed to pay his son's wife $5,000 during the first year following her divorce and $3,000 during each ensuing year of her life, provided she remained unmarried.

Custody of the four Cudah children was given Michael Cudahy and his wife, Catherine.

NORWEGIAN RESPONSIBLE.

Report on Loss of the Navy Collier Marcellus Forwarded to Washington

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 23.—The naval court of inquiry which investigated the loss of the navy collier Marcellus, following a collision off this coast with the Norwegian fruit steamer Rosario Di Giorgio, has forwarded its report to Washington.

The findings are said to be that the Norwegian vessel was wholly responsible for the loss of the Marcellus and recommendation was made that the government proceed to recover from the owners of the responsible vessel to th value of the Marcellus and the cargo which was placed unofficially at $125,000. The Norwegian owners, it is said, will resist this and the next step will be proceedings in the admiralty court on behalf of the government.

for the kind and cordial welcome as expressed through their representative and declared that the same was most heartily accepted and the stay here would be enjoyed to the fullest extent. The speaker felt satisfied that any town in the State would be glad to have a body of good men visit it, and, recalling the fact that if there is anything the order stand for it is good citizenship, he said that he could see no reason why the Juniors should not be heartily welcomed. The three cardinal principles of the order—Liberty Virtue and Patriotism—in their last analysis, mean good citizenship, he said. The order believes that the public schools are the best means of producing the best citizenship. The people must not only be educated in mind, but in heart and therefore the order says that the Bible should be read every day in the schools. The speaker said that if the principles are followed out to their last analysis there can be no loss of liberty. He spoke of the danger of immigration and explained the position of the Junior Order on this important question. In conclusion he again thanked the city official for the cordial welcome.

After a selection, "Annie Laurie," by the quartette, William J. Bellamy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, and an enthusiastic member of the local order, was introduced by Chairman Springer, and in a captivating speech extended to the visitors an eloquent and sincere welcome in behalf of the local councils. He was frank to admit that he knew of no greater pleasure and could conceive of no higher honor than to be able to welcome such a representative body of men. Nowhere, he said, was the order appreciated more than in Wilmington, and in this section; if one principle of the order is more appreciated than the other in this section it is Patriotism. He then referred to the noble patriots of the Cape Fear section who took the first strong stand against the tyranical government and declared that the spirit of the forefathers had come down to the present time. This was the birthplace of American liberty, the place where the first spark of patriotism was kindled.

Mr. Bellamy said that there were many reasons why the Juniors should be welcomed to this city and the beach, in addition to the one mentioned. Among them the order teaches the spirit of brotherhood, love of fellow man. The order also teaches the spirit of love, the first, best and last in life; love, which rules the entire world. In closing his excellent address, the speaker again mentioned the great pleasure it gave the local councils to be able to entertain the State Council.

Mr. H. R. Bates, whose superb bass voice has given much pleasure on many occasions, delighted the audience with a solo, "Tubalcane." In his exquisite rendition of the selection Mr. Bates fully sustained his well merited reputation as a singer.

The response to the address of welcome of Mr. Bellamy was made by Mr. E. B. Lewis, of Kinston, who is well known in Wilmington and throughout the State as an orator. In beginning he paid a compliment to Mr. Bellamy and Senator Overman; the eloquent speech of one he had heard with much pleasure and that of the other he was anticipating with the same degree of interest and pleasure. Mr. Lewis said that he knew of no part of the State in which he had rather be than in Wilmington, and after speaking of many historic spots he had visited, both North and South, he said that if any order or society which has patriotism as one of its principles cannot find a welcome in the cities by the sea in Eastern Carolina he would not know where to look for a welcome. He spoke of the part of the Cape Fear people in denouncing allegiance to the king. They did not spend their time in drafting resolutions and preambles, which afterwards might become a Declaration of Independence, but engaged their time in bringing about quicker and more definite results. "Here where the greatest city of North Carolina stands," he said, "there is no better place to enjoy ourselves. Here where the greatest and most decisive battle of the last war was fought," mentioning the stubborn resistance at Fort Fisher. The order is making men. The State and Nation must be saved and on the basis of brotherhood—fraternity."

When Mr. Lewis had concluded the quartette sang, "Hush My Honey," after which Woodus Kellum, Esq., member of the local bar and of the great order, was introduced and he in turn introduced Senator Overman in one of his characteristically able speeches. He said that there could not be a more appropriate place to introduce a patriot to a band of patriots than on the blissful shores of the Atlantic. When a child, the speaker heard "grown-ups" say Zebulon Vance was the greatest man North Carolina had ever produced, and then he had found out the name of the man who was private secretary to Vance and also private secretary to Governor Jarvis and something of his record in behalf of the State and Nation. After calling over the various official positions held by Senator Overman, he paid a high personal tribute to the distinguished visitor, and then he said: "I take great pleasure in introducing to you Senator Lee S. Overman, the successor in the hearts of the people in North Carolina of Governor Vance."

Senator Overman Speaks.

Senator Overman arose amidst the enthusiastic applause of the audience. He thanked Mr. Kellum for his kind words of introduction. "He was more than just, more than generous," said the Senator. The speaker said that he esteemed it a great pleasure to be present and take part in the exercises. He was happy to be able to look into the faces of the brethren, many of whom he had never seen before, and spoke of them as a noble band of men organized for mutual protection, to guard the best interests of the country, to preserve the best interest of the government and to hand down to future generations those things for which our forefathers fought and died. It was a revelation to the speaker to know that there were such patriotic and eloquent men in the State as had addressed the Juniors on this occasion and declared that North Carolina was to be congratulated for it.

"Immigration," was the subject of Senator Overman's address. It is a question in which he is deeply interested and one to which he has given much time and thought. He said in beginning that the subject might seem dry, but it was on of great importance to the entire country. He had read in the morning papers that the South was the truest American of any section of the Union because the South has fewer foreigners. He hoped that it would ever be thus. He was glad that North Carolina is the truest American State in all the Union, because it has less foreign population in all the Union. The South, North Carolina, will give a hearty welcome to Anglo-Saxons who come here and cast their lots, take their share of the burdens and share in the blessings, but the number of worthless people who come annually to this country, as shown by figures given by the Senator, is alarming and must be curtailed, he said. This country has got to be a dumping ground for the paupers and criminals of the world. The Senator evidently does not accept the report recently made in New York relative to the alleged White Slave traffic, for he declared that girls were being brought to this country and placed in houses of ill-fame to enrich those who bring them here.

Reports show that 135,000 foreigners landed here last April and the indications are that at least 1,200,000 will come to this country this year. What are we going to do about it? the Senator asked. They come here and share in our comforts, but not in the burdens of the country. Reports show that last year they sent back home in postoffice money orders alone $90,000,000.

Senator Overman favors restriction of immigration and a tax of $10 instead of a tax of $4 as at present and has introduced a bill in Congress changing the immigration laws. He believes that the bill will ultimately become a law. The speaker said that James J. Hill, one of the great patriots of the country, said that within 100 years at the present rate of increase in population the people of this country cannot make bread enough to support themselves. Why let them come here and do this? he asked. A few weeks ago, said the speaker, while sitting in front of a hotel in Washington, a foreigner with a hand organ came up. He played "Dixie", which meant a dime. The Senator became interested in the man and asked something about him. He learned that the man worked in the day time for $1.50 to $2 a day and at night operated his organ, while he lives on about 25 cents a day, sending the balance to the old country. This was cited by the speaker as an instance of the constant drain being made on this country by foreigners. He said that he did not think he could serve his State better than by working for restricting immigration, although he had been criticised by some in his home State. The speaker said that he was not in favor of prohibiting immigration entirely, but his idea was to restrict it. If a white man wants to come here and partake of the blessings of this country and is willing to bear the responsibilities of citizenship no one will bid him nay. But he should be required to pay a tax of $10. The present tax of $4 will not run the immigration station, but a $10 tax will do it and will leave a balance to teach him to read and write. The steamboat lines charge $50 or $60 to bring the immigrants over, while it cost them only $1.50 to $4 to feed on the trip. Therefore, the steamboat lines are making big money. The other countries are willing to get rid of their criminals, paupers and insane and dump them on America.

After speaking of the history of this section, which is gradually being given its proper place by the historians, Senator Overman dwelled for a short time on "Duty," duty to the home, duty to the flag, duty to the commonwealth, and urged his hearers that whatever they are doing, whatever may be their profession or occupation, to do well their duty and guard their country's interests. There is a tendency, he said, to centralization of power, to take away the liberty of the people. There is the danger, and this noble band of brethren and people of the Southland are yet to preserve this Union of ours.

When Senator Overman concluded Mr. John M. Enos, a member of the central committee on arrangements, walked down the aisle with a handsome basket of flowers which was deposited on the platform. As soon as Senator Overman was seated and the applause subsided, the basket was picked up by Woodus Kellum, Esq., who had been selected to present the same to Senator Overman. Mr. Kellum stated to Senator Overman that the flowers were a token from the 600 Juniors of Wilmington. The gift was most graciously accepted by the Senator, who will send the flowers by express this morning to his daughter in Salisbury.

After the singing of "I Want to Go Down South Once More" by the quartette, the meeting came to a close.

Senator Overman arrived in the city yesterday morning on the train from the North and was met at the union station by Chairman Wm. E. Springer in an automobile to Wrightsand others and was taken by Mr. Springer in his automobile to Wrightsville Beach, where the Senator spent the day quietly at Tarrymoore Hotel. Last evening Chairman Springer called for the Senator at the hotel and escorted him to Lumina, where the meeting was held. Senator Overman, who expressed himself as being perfectly delighted with his trip to Wilmington and the beach, spent the night at the Tarrymoore and will leave this morning for his home in Salisbury.

The convention proper will convene at 9 o'clock this morning in the assembly hall of Tarrymoore Hotel. There were between 400 and 500 members of the order here last night and it is expected that between 100 and 200 will arrive today. The State Council will hold a session this afternoon, another tonight and three sessions will be held Thursday. Friday night the visitors will be entertained by the Tidewater Power Company at a souvenir dance at Lumina.

New Orleans, Aug. 23.—Storm warnings were issued today for the Mexican Gulf district, a disturbance being reported at a point in the Caribbean Sea off Porto Rico. This is the first warning since the advent of the so-called West Indian hurricane season, which starts early in August.

NATIONAL TENNIS MATCH.

Wright and Bundy Meet in Final Set of Series Today.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 23.—Beal S. Wright, of Boston, and Thomas C. Bundy, of California, will meet in the final match of the 30th to determine who shall have the privilege of playing champion William A. Larned for the National Title on the following day, Wright himself, a former champion, barely won in five hard sets today from E. H. Whitney, another Bostonian and the inter-scholastic champion. Bundy, after losing the first set had little difficulty in winning from F. C. Colston, of Baltimore, Maryland's State champion.

IRREGULAR DAY FOR COTTON

Bullish Crop Report Failed to Stimulate Any General Demand—Opened and Closed Steady—August Record for Season.

New York, Aug. 23.—Bullish crop news failed to stimulate any general demand of consequence following an early advance in the cotton market today and subsequent fluctuations were more or less irregular with the close barely steady at an advance of 6 to 13 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 to 13 points with near months leading on the higher cables, covering by August shorts, and bullish crop accounts from Texas indicating a yield less than three per cent. larger than last year. Realizing checked the advance around the initial figures and during the morning there were reactions of 5 to 6 points from the top, but the market later firmed up again, following the detailed Texas weather report showing very high temperatures and a report from a local authority indicating that present prospects pointed to a crop of only 10,340,000 bales. August made a new high record for the season on this second advance touching 16.60 or 21 points above the closing figures of last night, and the new crop sold into new high ground for the day also, or to a net gain of 12 to 16 points But, as had been the case on the initial bulge there was no material broadening of speculative demand on the advance and while there was some support from the bull leaders as well as covering by early sellers the market eased off from the top under renewed realizing and selling by local bears who probably are looking forward to the new crop movement as likely to prove a depressing factor in the absence of general demand. Last prices were 6 to 9 points net higher on new crop months. The weekly weather report read bullishly but attracted comparatively little attention as it presented no fresh features, while selling on the late decline was undoubtedly encouraged by the failure of the bullish private crop figures to bring in more active buying from outside sources. Southern spot markets officially reported early were 1-16c lower to 1-8c higher, generally unchanged.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 12,294 bales against 9,850 last week and 70,201 last year, and 17,993 in 1908. Port receipts for the week are estimated at 50,000 against 40,796 and 36,388 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans were 8 bales against 1,333 last year and at Houston 5,728 bales against 2,336 last year.

Spot closed quiet 15 points higher; middling uplands 16.55; middling gulf 16.80; sales 17,250 bales.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

LOOK FOR ADVANCE.

Drought Reports From Texas Stimulus in Cotton Market.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Aug. 23.—Advices of the continued absence of rain in Texas, where the central portion of the State is believed to be suffering severely from drought, and the covering of the near positions in Liverpool by continental houses who have remained short until this late in the season, brought about an unexpected sharp advance in Liverpool. On the advance which followed in our market there was profit taking by the buyers of last week, while late in the afternoon there appeared to be hedge selling against buying of new cotton in Texas.

Nearly every one here looks for higher prices on these drought reports from Texas. It was thought the holders of September were sellers on the advance.

Staggers Skeptics.

That a clean, nice, fragrant compound like Bucklen's Arnica Salve will instantly relieve a bad burn, cut, scald, wound or piles, staggers skeptics. But great cures prove it's a wonderful healer of the worst sores, ulcers, boils, felons, eczema, skin eruptions, as also chapped hands, sprains, and corns. Try it. 25c at Robt. R. Bellamy.

STOCKS ARE ADVANCING ACAIN

Market Made Rather Sharp and Unexpected Turn Yesterday—Trading Contracted and Limited to Leaders.

New York, Aug. 23.—From a very weak opening today's stock market turned rather sharply and made general recoveries. Trading was again very contracted and limited to the usual market leaders, Reading, the Harrimans and United States Steel, these comprising fully 60 per cent. of the day's small overturn.

Latest developments in the political situation were accepted with more equanimity, President Taft's exposition of the incidents leading up to the recent meeting of the Republican State committee in this city being regarded as strong evidence of a better understanding between the administration and Col. Roosevelt. The latter's tour of the country, beginning today, will be watched with absorbing interest, the more so since it has been intimated that his speeches will deal rather more with future than past events.

On the stock exchange the point of view respecting the immediate outlook was rather mixed. The large bear party unhesitatingly attacks the market at every favorable opportunity but is showing increasing weariness as the pressure from other quarters relaxes. In banking circles surface showings indicate that nothing is being done to encourage an advance, except for the greater ease of money.

Foreign exchange developed an easier tone and closed without change. Other exchanges are quiet and various cereals steady. Bond market steady and was without feature. Total par value aggregated $1,086,000. Total sales of the day were 332,200 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Wheat and corn were strong all through the session today closing within a fraction of the top. Wheat being 5-8 to 3-4 to 1 1-8c up and corn 1-4 to 3-4 higher.

In spite of the strength of wheat and corn, oats dragged much of the time and closed 1-8 off to 1-8 to 1-4c up while provisions after advancing sharply fell away even more acutely and finished from 10 to 32 1-2c down.

Wheat—No. 1 red 99 3-4 to 1.01; No. 2 red 99 1-2 to 1.00 3-4; No. 3 red 97 1-2 to 99 1-2; No. 1 hard 99 3-4 to 1.01; No. 2 hard 99 1-2 to 1.00 1-2; No. 3 hard 97 1-2 to 99 1-2; No. 1 northern old 1.20 to 1.22; No. 2 northern 1.08 to 1.12; No. 2 spring 1.03 to 1.07; No. 3 spring 1.00 to 1.05; durum 90 to 98.

Corn—No. 2, 61 1-2 to 61 3-4; No. 2 white 61 3-4 to 62; No. 2 yellow 61 3-4 to 62; ..o. 3, 61 to 61 1-2; No. 3 white 61 1-4 to 61 1-2; No. 3 yellow 61 1-4 to 61 1-2; No. 4, 60 1-2 to 60 3-4; No. 4 white 61; No. 4 yellow 60 1-2 to 60 3-4.

THE FINANCIAL MARKET.

New York, Aug. 23.—Money easy, highest 1 1-2, lowest 1 1-4, ruling rate 1 3-8, last loan 1 1-4, closing bid 1 1-4, offered at 1 1-2. Time loans somewhat firmer, sixty days 3 per cent., and ninety days 3 3-4; six months 4 5-8 to 4 3-4.

Prime mercantile paper 5 1-2 to 6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8390 to 4. 8410 for sixty day bills and at 4.8670 for demand. Commercial bills 4.83 1-4 to 4.83 3-4. Bar silver 52 7-8. Mexican dollars 44.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 23.—There was a fairly good demand in evidence in the primary cotton goods market for staple fabrics for nearby delivery. The market is firm and it is noted that buyers are more inclined to pay the prices mills are receiving. Trade in men's wear is of fair volume on spot goods. Cotton yarn prices have been advanced again but business is dull. The export trade for the week was quiet also.

NAVAL STORES.

New York, Aug. 23.—Rosin steady, turpentine quiet.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 23.—Turpentine firm 68 3-4; sales 507. Receipts 1,196; shipments 590; tock 11,991. Rosin firm; sales 2,720; receipts 2,832; shipments 1,137; stocks 61,147. PEANUTS.

(Reported by Rodgers, McCabe & Co.)

Spanish—Market steady at $1.35 per bushel. Virginias—Market firm at 4 1-2 to 4 3-4 for Jumbo; 3 3-4 to 4c for fancy stock; 2 1-2 to 3c for machine picked; 2c for shelling stock.

STEDMAN SURE TO WIN.

North Alive With Discussion of Tariff and Other Live Questions.

(Raleigh News & Observer Aug. 23.)

Mr. David Stern, of the Guilford bar, was in Raleigh yesterday. He says there is no doubt that Maj. Chas. M. Stedman will be elected to Congress, and the outlook is that Guilford county will give the biggest Democratic victory it has given in ten years.

Mr. Stern has recently returned from a visit to Northern States. He says that the people everywhere are deeply interested and everywhere talking about the live questions of politics, making real fights upon vital questions. Only in North Carolina, says Mr. Stern, is little heard of the movements that are working a revolution in politics over the North.

Mr. Stern was away during the Republican State convention, or he would not be surprised. With "Insurgents" everywhere else in the Republican party fighting the Cannon-Aldrich lawmaking power, not a single voice was raised in the Republican State convention upon these big problems that are rending the Republican party in twain. The only question was whether Duncan & Co., or Butler & Morehead should distribute the Federal patronage, and the convention elected Morehead, who sneezed every time Cannon took snuff during the last session of Congress.

DROWNED IN PAMLICO.

Boy Fell From Railroad Wharf—Tobacco Break a Success.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., Aug 23.—Major John Wright, the 13-year-old son of Mr. M. J. Wright, of this city, met his death by drowning in Pamlico river this morning between 9 and 10 o'clock. The little fellow was playing on the Atlantic Coast Line docks, about 10 or 12 feet above the water line and in some unaccountable way lost his balance and fell overboard. Edward Archbell, a playmate, saw him wave to him just before he fell overboard and tried to save him but failing, gave the alarm and soon a large number of citizens were on the scene and trying to find the body which was not recovered until some time after. Physicians were summoned and tried in every way to resuscitate the boy but in vain. Major was a bright and promising boy and had many friends here. The funeral will be conducted from the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

The Washington tobacco market opened in the large new warehouse today under the most promising indications for a successful season. A large number of farmers attended and every farmer having his product on the floor was well pleased with the result. Sixty piles of tobacco were on the floor and between 30,000 and 35,000 pounds were sold at an average of eight cents per pound. Today's tobacco break exceeded the expectations of the most sanguine.

NEW ATHLETIC RECORDS.

Sheppard and Flanagan of New York Club Winners.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Two athletic records were broken here today. Martin Sheppard, of the New York Irish American Athletic Club chopped four-fifths of a second off the 800 yard running record, covering the distance in 1:43 3-5, and John Flanagan, of the Irish American Athletic Club added another foot to the world's record for throwing the 56 pound weight, throwing the weight 39 3-8 inches.

LUMBERTON NOTES.

George Norment, Jr., Bound Over—Mountain Excursion—Other News.

Lumberton, N. C., Aug. 23.—In the Mayor's court here today George Norment, Jr., colored, charged with selling liquor, was bound over to the Superior Court in a $200 justified bond. Giles Rozier made the bond and Norment was released.

Messrs. White & Gough left on the evening train for the Northern cities to purchase their Fall and Winter stock of goods which they say will be a record breaker.

The mountain excursion passed here this morning about on time. Sixteen people went from Lumberton, among the number being several who went on the Johnson City excursion a few weeks ago.

Dr. J. J. Crow, Lumberton's eye specialist, delivered an interesting address on the care of the eyes before teachers attending the teachers' institute, in the graded school building this afternoon.

Messrs. Stephen McIntyre and Jas. D. Proctor, of the law firm of McIntyre, Lawrence & Proctor, left on the evening train for a ten days trip in the mountains.

Quite a number of our young people enjoyed a hay ride tonight.

Rev. E. M. Hoyle, pastor of the Lumberton Methodist church, who has been spending his vacation in the western part of the State, returned home this morning.

Chief of Police Redfern returned this morning from Wadesboro where he was called yesterday evening on account of the sickness of one of his children. He returned to Wadesboro this evening and will remain until his child is better. During the absence of Chief Redfern his place will be filled by Mr. A. E. Spivey.

SPECIAL AGENTS BUSY

Investigated Sugar Sampling at New Orleans Government Work.

Washington, Aug. 23—Special agents of the Department of Justice, working with Secret Service operatives of the treasury, have been making for an investigation of sugar sampling at New Orleans. Partial reports have been received by Assistant Attorney W. I. Dennison, who is in charge of the inquiry, but he says the investigation has not progressed to a point where any conclusions can be announced.

It became known today, however, that Frank Gabrine, the special agent whose work in connection with sugar frauds at New York, attracted attention, was recently sent to New Orleans.

Gabriene posed as Frank Gardner, a magazine writer, investigating the white slave trade. His identity became known in New Orleans and he has left there.

A Federal grand jury meets in New Orleans in October, but the Department of Justice insists that its investigation is not sufficient to warrant an announcement that any evidence may be presented to that body.

GAYNOR WALKING AROUND.

Mayor Rapidly Improving—Gallagher's Statement.

New York, Aug. 23.—Mayor Gaynor was up for three hours today, walking about his room or reading. He ate well tonight and was in good spirits.

James J. Gallagher, the Mayor's assailant, issued a statement through counsel today. The statement in Gallagher's own spelling follows:

"I, James J. Gallagher, red in Friday's mong paper that I said I was glad I shot Mayor Gaynor and that I was sorry I did not kill him. This assercion is not only a fabrication but a deep-dyed Lie as was ever told on any person. I have been praying night and day ever since the occurance. If the prayer of the sinner is heard, God in His goodness has heard my prayer and is all merciful and goodness to the sinner for he said to the thief on the cross, this day will though be in Paradise with me."

The Best Hour of Life.

is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had. I then proved to my great satisfaction what a wonderful cold and cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured. I can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." It's the surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, hemorrhages, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever—any throat or lung trouble 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Robt. R. Bellamy.

TEDDY HAS BEGUN HIS TOURS LIVELY

think a good man and a good woman can get to Heaven in a dozen different ways," he said, "but I do not think they can get there unless they are good.

"The only motto for Americans should be: 'All men up and not some men down,'" he said and a little later he said:

"We hear a man tell his wife that she does not do as his mother did that man frequently is a man who does not do the way his father ought to have done."

What pleased the grangers most of all, however, was this:

"I will never go with the type of farmer who says:

'I am against a bad type of lawyer or bad type of banker,' in other words I will go with him when he pronounces judgment in a man not in accordance with his occupation, but in accordance with his conduct. That is good American doctrine."

Problem of Conservation.

Theodore Roosevelt this afternoon delivered the first address of his western tour at Summit Park, this city. He spoke in part as follows:

"There are no two public questions of more vital importance to the future of this country than the problem of conservation and the problem of the betterment of public life. Moreover, these two problems are really interdependent for neither of them can be successfully solved save on condition that there is at least a measurable success in the effort to solve the other. In any great country the prime physical asset—the physical asset more valuable than any other—is the fertility of the soil. All our industrial and commercial welfare, all our material development of every kind, depends in the last resort upon our preserving and increasing the fertility of the soil. This, of course, means the conservation of the soil as the great natural resource; and, equally, of course, it furthermore implies the development of country life, for there cannot be a permanent improvement of the soil if the life of those who live on it, and make their living out of it, suffered to starve and languish, to become stunted, and weakened and inferior to the type of life lived elsewhere. We are now trying to preserve not for explotation by individuals, but for the permanent benefit of the whole people, the waters and the forests, and we are doing this promarily as a means of adding to the fertility of the soil; although in each case there is a great secondary use both of the water and of the forests for commercial and industrial purposes. In the same way it is essential for the farmers themselves to try to broaden the life of the man who lives in the open country; to make it more attractive, to give it every adjunct and aid to development which has been given to the life of the man of the cities. Therefore, friends, the conservation and rural life policies are really two sides of the same policy; and down at bottom this policy rests upon the fundamental law that neither man nor nation can prosper unless, in dealing with the present, he steadily take thought for the future.

"In one sense this problem with which we have to deal is very, very old. Wherever civilizations have hitherto sprung up they have always tended to go through certain stages and then to fall. No nation can develop a real civilization without cities. Up to a certain point the city movement is thoroughly healthy; yet it is a strange and lamentable fact that always hitherto after this point has been reached the city has tended to develop at the expense of the country by draining the country of what is best in it, and making an insignificant return for this best. In consequence, in the past, every civilization in its later stages has tended really to witness these conditions under which 'the cities prospar and the men decay.' There are ugly signs that these tendencies are at work in this nation of ours. But very fortunately we see now what never before was seen in any civilization—an aroused and alert public interest in the problem, a recognition of its gravity and a desire to attempt its solution.

"The problem does not consist merely in the growth of the city. Such a growth in itself is a good thing and not a bad thing for the country. The problem consists in the growth of the city at the expense of the country; and, even where this is not the case, in so great an equality of growth in power and interest as to make the city more attractive than the country, and therefore apt to drain the country of the people who ought to live therein.

"The human side of the rural life problem is to make the career of the farmer and the career of the farm laborer as attractive and as remunerative as corresponding careers in the city. Now, I am well aware that the farmer must himself take the lead in bringing this about. A century and a quarter ago the wise English farmer, Arthur Young, wrote of the efforts to improve French wool: 'A cultivator at the head of a sheep farm of 3,000 or 4,000 acres would in a few years do more for their wools than all the academicians and philosophers will effect in ten centuries.' It is absurd to think that any man who has studied the subject only theoretically is fit to direct those who practically work at the matter. But, friends, I wish to insist to you here—to you practical men, who own and work your farms—that it is a pernicious absurdity for the practical man to refuse to benefit by the work of the student. The English farmer I have quoted, Young, was a pracital farmer, but he was also a scientific farmer. One reason why the great business men of today—the great industrial leaders—have gone ahead, while the farmer has tended to sag behind the others, is that they are far more willing, and indeed eager, to profit by expert and technical knowledge that can only come as a result of the highest education. From railways to factories no great industrial concern can now-a-days be carried on save by the aid of a swarm of men who have received a high techinal education in chemistry, in engineering, in electricity, in one or more of scores of special subjects. The big businessman, the big railway man, does not ask college-trained experts to tell him how to run his business; but he does ask numbers of them each to give him expert advice and aid on some one point indispensable to his business. He finds this man is some gradute of a technical school or college in which he has been trained for his life work.

"In just the same way the farmers should benefit by the advice of the technical men who have been trained in phases of the very work the farmer does.

"The farmer, must not only make his land pay, but he must make country life interesting for himself and for his wife and his sons and daughters. Our people as a whole should realize the infinite possibilities of life in the country; and every effort should be made to make these possibilities more possible. From the beginning of time it has been the man raised in the country—and usually the man born in the country—who has been most apt to render the services which every nation most needs. Turning to the list of American statesmen, it is extraordinary to see how large a proportion started as farm boys. But is rather sad to see that in recent years most of these same boys have ended their lives as men living in cities.

"Above all, the conditions of farm life must always be shaped with a view to the welfare of the farmer's wife and the farm laborer's wife, quite as much as to the welfare of the farmer and farm laborer. To have the woman a mere drudge is at least as bad as to have the man a mere drudge. It is every whit as important to introduce new machines to economize her labor within the house, as it is to introduce machinery to increase the effectiveness of his labor outside the house. I haven't the slightest sympathy with any movement which looks to excusing men and women for the non-performance of duty and fixes attention only on rights and not on duties. The woman who shirks her duty as housewife, as mother, is a contemptible creature; just as the corresponding man is a contemptible creature. But the welfare of the woman is even more important than the welfare of the man; for the mother is the real Atlas, who bears aloft in her strong and tender arms the destiny of the world. She deserves honor and consideration such as no man should receive. She forfeits all claim to this honor and consideration if she shirks her duties. But the average American woman does not shirk them; and it is a matter of the highest obligation for us to see that they are performed under conditions which make for her welfare and happiness and for the welfare and happiness of the children she brings into the world."

White Man Imposing on Ignorant Negroes—Other Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23.—The latest imposition on the crdulity of ignorant negroes hereabouts is the scheme of some unprincipled white man who is going through some sections of the county and representing to the negroes that he is taking a census of the ex-slaves for whom there is available a large fund set aside by the Federal Government to be apportioned among them. He is representing to the negroes that ex-slaves 70 years and older are to receive $500 while those ranging from 50 to 70 years are to receive $350. He collects a fee for each name enrolled, the fee being ten cents and whatever larger amount he mgiht think is possible to get. The rascal has not been apprehended yet and his identity is not known.

Mrs. Delia Wells is here from Old Fort to be treated for a mad dog bite inflicter in her face. It was a hound belonging to a neighbor. She is taking the Pasteur treatment in the State laboratory.

It develops that the dispute over the erection of a union passenger station at Fayetteville is on the question of character of building that is to be erected. The Atlantic Coast Line has prepared and submitted two sets of plans for a union station for its use and that of the Raleigh and Southport and neither set of plans has proven to be acceptable to the citizens, particularly the Chamber of Commerce. Then the appeal came to the Corporation Commission and the investigation and hearing at Fayetteville by the commission is set for Wednesday of next week.

After an illness of several weeks of typhoid fever at Rex Hospital here Mr. Sanford L. Rotter has so far recovered as to be able to go to his home on Polk street. He is a well known former newspaper man now treasurer of the North Carolina State fair.

A charter was issued today for The Rowan Chemical Co., Salisbury, capital $100,000 by R. M. Rostbro of Cleveland, and H. P. Brown, of Salisbury. The company proposes to conduct a general drug business.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Killed Wife, Horse Then Sent Bullet Into Oown Heart.

Perkinsville, Vt., Aug. 23.—Sitting upright in her carriage shot through the heart, the body of Mrs. Fanny Hewey, aged 45 years, was found late today on branch road by a party of automobilists. The horse was also dead, shot through the heart. A little farther on the body of G. Frank Hewey, aged 28 years, husband of the woman was found a bullet wound in his breast and a rifle by his hide.

The tragedy was enacted far from any witnesses and the police call it a case of murder and suicide, the outcome of family troubles. The woman had left her husband three times and refused to return to him again. He then became morose and for several days, it is said, has sat in front of his house with his rifle across his knees. When his wife drove along the road today it is believed he halted them by killing the horse and then when she refused to listen to his pleadings, shot her through the heart sending a third bullet into his own body.

HEARING AT NEWBERN.

Before Capt. Brown in Regard to Channel Improvement.

Beaufort, N. C., Aug. 23.—The proposed improvement of the channel leadnig from Cove Sound to Beaufort harbor via Carrot Island Slough and Taylor's creek, was the subject of a hearing today before Capt. Earl I. Brown, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., and Assistant Engineer Harry T. Paterson, of Newbern, sub-district. More than 100 people appeared, advocating the proposed improvement.

MORE DELEGATES.

Fourteen Others to Waterways Convention—Government Building.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 23.—Fourteen additional delegates are announced for the third annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, to be held in Providence, R. I., August 31, to September 3, this making 110 delegates and three special commissioners that have been commissioned by Governor Kitchin. The latest commissions are C. N. Evans, Eric Norden, J. B. Mercer, D. McEachern, M. W. Divine, Meares Harris, H. G. Smallbones, Capt. Edgar Williams, Joseph W. Little, Wilmington; Henry Staton, Bethea; H. M. Jenkins, Washington; J. H. White, Elizabeth City; G. Herbert Smith, Cronly; C. L. Duncan, Beaufort; Dr. William C. Stinson, Currituck.

Now that the Congress has provided for the enlargement of the government building here to the ultimate tune of something like $500,000, there is considerable difference of opinion as to just how the enlargement should be made. The most generally supposed scheme of enlargement has been to add a wing from the southwest corner of the present building along the rear of the present court yard facing Martin street with the lawn that is left in front.

Charlestown, W. Va., Aug. 23.—R. C. Ginggold, his wife and several friends, riding in an automobile from Shepherdstown to Charlestown narrowly escaped death by leaping from the machine when a Baltimore and Ohio passenger train dashed around a curve as they were crossing Slowing Springs, and came upon them without warning. None of the party was hurt. The machine was wrecked.
